Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Rice Honored Sunday at 64th Wedding Reception

Between 60 and 70 relatives and friends attended the reception held Sunday, November 1, at the Christian church parlors in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Rice of Dayton, who observed their 64th wedding anniversary.

The church was beautifully decorated with silver bells and baskets of chrysanthemums.

The reception table was covered with a rare, old linen cloth belonging to Mrs. Henry Melton's mother. The table was centered with an arrangement of chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl and flanked with gold candles.

A three-tiered wedding cake made and decorated by Mrs. Loren Guse was a gift from the couple's niece and nephew, Willie White and Winnie White Jones of Wapato.

Gifts of 1895

A small round table laid with an embroidered cloth edged in lace held the wedding gifts the couple received in 1895. Included were an antique berry bowl with matching syrup pitcher, glass pitcher and sugar bowl, pink and blue salt and pepper, pair of baby shoes and a small dish belonging to Mrs. Rice's mother. This dish was one of her mother's wedding gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice were married in Dayton on October 31, 1895, by the late Judge Holman. They have spent their entire married life in the county. They lived for over 40 years on Robinette Mountain where they owned and operated a farm. They have made their home in Dayton for the past 16 years.

Help With Reception

Assisting with the reception for the couple were: Mrs. Fred Blessinger who had charge of flowers; Mrs. Henry Melton in charge of decorations; Mrs. Ida Smith and Mrs. Fred Czyhold in charge of serving; Mrs. Guse, served the wedding cake; Mrs. Lloyd Rainwater, Mrs. Anna B. McCauley, Mrs. Artie Stedman, Miss Nola Jones, Mrs. Grace Lowe and Mrs. Violet Blessinger served coffee and punch. Agnes Bundy had charge of the guest book.

Members of the immediate family present for the reception were Mrs. Estle Bundy of Dayton, a daughter; Mrs. Eula Bundy Helmka and Mrs. Ina Bundy Dalton, both granddaughters of Walla Walla, and Carol Lynn Dalton, great granddaughter of Walla Walla.

History of Stevens Family Tells of Wagon Train Trek

By Lulu Newton

Biographical Sketch of Hanson Stevens

Hanson Stevens was born in Dearborn county, Indiana, on March 14, 1818. His parents were of English descent and they were farmers.

On March 1, 1838, at the age of 20, he married Lavina Wickard. They were married in Ripley county, Indiana, and made their home there until 1846, when the family moved to Iowa. Six years later, in April of 1852, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, with seven children, the oldest, Isaac, being 13 years old, started from Koe Kuk, Iowa, in a train of 23 wagons, drawn by oxen, for Oregon.

They brought all their household goods and a large herd of cattle, which they drove along the way. The grass was scarce and the stock suffered a great deal. At this time, it was considered a very hazardous undertaking to cross the plains with ox teams, and required a great deal of courage for a man to take his all, at such a risk on such a journey.

The plains were infested with Indians, and marauders, and the only wonder is that more of these pioneers were not killed.

Cloud of Dust

The Stevens family was about six months making the journey. One day, while driving along, they saw a big cloud of dust, and through the dust, they imagined hundreds of Indians riding toward them. They stopped the train, corralled the wagons and got ready to defend themselves.

When the cloud of dust got nearer, they discovered that instead of Indians on horseback, it was a big herd of buffalo. The men went out on horseback after them and killed enough that they had all the fresh meat they needed for some time.

This wagon train was called "The Dickson Train" and of the 23 wagons starting from Koe Kuk, Hanson Stevens was the only one to reach Oregon. Some of the men quarreled and parted company, most of the trains going to California.

Drive Cattle

When the Stevens family got to the Dalles, Stevens and the oldest son, Isaac, took their cattle down the trail to the mouth of the Big Sandy river, while Mrs. Stevens, with six children, two of them, Rebecca and Christine, sick with mountain fever, and another, Sarah, badly burned from a camp fire near Pendleton, came down from the Dalles to the upper Cascades in an open scow paddled by Indians. They transferred around the Cascades and took another scow on which they went to the Big Sandy.

The Stevens family went on to Silverton landing with only five dollars in cash. Stevens found that wheat was $5 a bushel and potatoes were $3.

He took up a donation land claim of 308 acres near the Newsome sawmill, five miles from Silverton, Oregon, and after building a cabin to live in, he went to work splitting rails to earn enough to feed his family. This first winter was so cold and with no feed for his cattle he lost them all.

Wife Dies

This was the winter of 1852-1853. Mrs. Stevens died in 1863 at the age of 40, and two years later Stevens married Elizabeth Jane Bently Fuller.

After his second marriage, he rented his land to his son, Isaac, who afterward bought out the other heirs. The property was still owned by members of his family as late as 1944.

Stevens bought a ranch in Yamhill county where he lived with his second wife until his death in 1880.

Stevens Children

The Stevens children were as fololws: Isaac Stevens, Rebecca Stevens Mount, Sarah Stevens McCubbins, Rispy Stevens Ringo, Christine Stevens Esson, Millard Stevens, Mary Stevens Smith, all born in Indiana; Emma Stevens, Martha Ann (Mattie) Stevens Cahill, born in Oregon, and of the second marriage, Keithly Boles, Lyman Davis Hall and Alice Fidellia, born in Oregon.

At one time, Stevens came to Washington for a while, but eventually went back to Oregon. This was about 1858.

Spinning Wheel

Mrs. Lena Parsons of Dayton, a great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, has in her possession the spinning wheel, a pair of wool cards and a set of candle molds, brought across the plains in 1852.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens are buried at Bethany, near Silverton, Oregon.

Mrs. Lulu Newton and Mrs. George (Lida) Jackson, both of Dayton, are granddaughters of Hanson and Lavina Stevens. The Stevens family reunion will be held in July at the Esson home at Silverton, Oregon, this year. Reunions have been held each year with the first held in July, 1891.

Sees Sister First Time in 45 Years

Mrs. S. E. McCubbins Attends Golden Wedding of Daughter.

Not only did Mrs. S. E. McCubbins, pioneer woman of Columbia county, attend the golden wedding anniversary of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Cross, in Lodi, California, during her trip from which she recently returned, but she visited a half sister, Mrs. Alice Dixen, whom she had not seen for about 45 years.

The wedding anniversary was celebrated at the home of her daughter November 15. Mrs. McCubbins, who is 81 years young, visited Mrs. Dixon at San Jose and a niece at Morgan Hill, California, before returning. She states that she enjoyed the trip very much, and although members of her family worried over her going alone, she had not the slightest trouble and would like to make the trip again some time.

Mrs. Samuel McCubbins, 92, of Dayton likes to travel, and does. Additional details on this page. (Staff photo).

Stevens Clan Matriarch Is Dayton Woman

Persons over 90 years of age seldom stray far from their rocking chairs and home roof, but Mrs. Samuel McCubbins of Dayton, is not an ordinary person. She travels far and she travels often, with little or no denial of an insistent urge to be going places and seein' things. Mrs. McCubbins is 92 years old—which makes the foregoing newsworthy and unusual.

Mrs. McCubbins belongs to that numerous clan whose moniker is Stevens, and which has been holding family reunions in Oregon these past 49 years. At these conclaves, Mrs. McCubbins is the matriarch and belle by right of seniority and common consent. Of nine children born to Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Stevens, who migrated to Silverton in the Willamette valley from Keokuk, Iowa, in the right early date of 1852, she is the oldest living. A younger half-sister resides in California, but the other seven have passed on. The children of these nine original Stevenses, and their children's children have increased until there are now several hundred relatives in the clan.

To Meet on Clackamas

Next year the family will convene to celebrate the fiftieth annual reunion, and a shady spot on the Clackamas river, near Oregon City, has been selected for that auspicious occasion. It will be held on the third Sunday in July, and you can put it down in your datebook that Mrs. McCubbins is going to be present. She sat in on this year's reunion with a great deal of personal pleasure and joy to her relatives.

Ready for Early Interview

...ving reporter had his first contact with this lovable person one day last week, and at an hour in the morning when much younger women than Mrs. McCubbins would be getting their beauty sleep. But she is no sleepyhead, 92 years or not.

By comparing notes it was determined that she is one of the very oldest living settlers of Columbia county. She was five when she crossed the plains in that historic trek of 1852. In 1861 she married Samuel McCubbins and lived in "the valley" until 1875, by which time four children had been born, to be followed by three born in Columbia county. In 1875 the family moved to what is now Columbia county and settled on Eckler mountain.

All of the seven children, save Henry, who died in Dayton, are alive. The husband and father died 37 years ago, and since then the widow has lived in Dayton, most of that time in the same house at 744 So. Fourth.

Handicraft Remarkable

The fact that she is a marvelous exponent of that grand old school of crochet and needlecraft artistry, was not brought up by Mrs. McCubbins, with becoming modesty, but her home is full of her handiwork — from crocheted bedspreads to articles of far less size. It was from others that the interviewer got the fact that she is famous around Dayton for her great collection of exquisitely beautiful pieces made by her nimble fingers over a period of many years.

Furthermore, she was an artist in her day with the old-type spinning wheel—not the foot-propelled type, but the older style which was operated by one hand turning a huge wheel. Her yarn was unbelievably strong, and uniform. Her spinning wheel needs mending just now, but if necessary it could be gotten into production most any time, so long as Mrs. McCubbins is on the premises.

"No, I never had any time for politics—but I do like to travel", she confessed, at the same time illuminating a kindly face with a sweet smile of broad dimensions. She related her experiences the past summer, and they were strenuous enough to fatigue a much younger person than she. "I don't tire in riding to Portland in an automobile," she insisted. "Usually some of my children or sons-in-law pick me up and I make the trip alright. Yes, I admit, I like to travel."

The living children are: Mrs. Elva Flanagan, Dayton; Mrs. Alice Cross, Lodi, Cal.; Mrs. Rose Douglas, Montana; Mrs. Ada Wortman, Portland; Mrs. Bertha Frahm, of Twin Falls, and her twin brother Arthur, of Dayton.

Two Taken By Death

MRS. ADD CAHILL

Mrs. Add Cahill died Friday morning after many years of invalidism which had confined her to her bed for a long period. Her condition became critical only little more than a week ago when she suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Funeral services were held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel Monday morning at 10 o'clock with Rev. Thomas McCamant of the Congregational church in charge, and interment was made in the Dayton cemetery.

Martha Ann (Mattie) Stevens was born near Silverton, Marion county, Oregon, August 4, 1859. She was the youngest of the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Stevens, pioneers of Oregon. The Stevens family crossed the plains by wagon train in 1852 and were among the early settlers of the Willamette valley.

Mrs. Stevens died when her youngest daughter, Martha Ann, was about four years old. The child was reared by relatives and on October 11, 1879, she came to Dayton to make her home with her sister, Mrs. Sarah McCubbins.

On March 22, 1889, she was married to Add Cahill, whose family had settled on Eckler mountain in an early day. They purchased a homestead in this region known now as the George Thompson place, and there they lived until the spring of 1888 when they disposed of it and moved to Oregon in search of a new location.

Not finding the type of place they had in mind they returned to Columbia vounty in the fall of 1888 and Add Cahill purchased his father's place on Eckler mountain. They added to this from time to time until it became one of the most extensive holdings in that district.

In the fall of 1896 Mr. Cahill retired from active farming and purchased the residence on First street which was the family home for 43 years. The Cahills celebrated their golden wedding there March 22, 1931, and this spring they passed their 58th anniversary.

Mrs. Cahill is survived by her husband, Add Cahill of this city; three daughters, Mrs. Lida Jackson and Mrs. Lulu Newton, Dayton, and Mrs. Bessie Fouts, Walla Walla; one sister, Mrs. Sarah McCubbins, Dayton, who is now past 90; eight grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

28 March 1940

Add Cahill, 80 Resident Here Over 60 Years

Lived 45 Years in Same Home on First Street; Born in Wisconsin

Add Cahill, 80, one of Columbia county's best known early residents, died at his home on First St. Saturday morning. He had long been an invalid and had been confined to his bed the last four years.

Funeral services were held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel Monday morning at ten o'clock, with the Rev. Thomas McCamant of the Congregational church in charge. Interment was made at the family plot in the Dayton cemetery.

Born near Waupon, Wisconsin, March 18, 1860, Add Cahill came west with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Cahill, making the trip to the coast by emigrant train and from San Francisco by boat. They arrived here May 4, 1878. They settled on Eckler mountain, and Add Cahill was married to Martha Ann Stevens March 22, 1881.

Mr. and Mrs. Cahill first farmed land now known as the George Thompson place, and in 1888 they sold their holdings and went to Oregon in search of a new location. After looking over numerous properties there, they went to Spokane, but were content to return here to make their permanent home. They bought the homestead of Mr. Cahill's parents the fall of 1888, and from time to time purchased other farms on Eckler mountain the last being the old Sevier McClain place about seven miles from town.

In 1895 the Cahills purchased the home on First St. where they lived for 45 years. Mr. Cahill did active farming until 1912, but long after that he kept in the closest touch with all activities on his several large tracts.

Mr. Cahill was almost the last of the early-day farmers who had to haul the wheat from their farms to Wallula in order to market it. He would make the long trip by team taking several days for the journey, and would make his expenses by hauling freight back from Wallula to Walla Walla. Railroads did not serve this territory for many years after wheat was first grown in large quantities here, and many farmers hauled their own crops and sometimes those of their neighbors to this distant shipping point.

Mrs. Cahill died May 12, 1939, and Mr. Cahill leaves three daughters, Mrs. Roy Fouts, Walla Walla, and Mrs. Geo. W. Jackson and Mrs. Harry W. Newton, both of Dayton. Also surviving are eight grandchildren, four great-grandchildren, one brother, Grant Cahill of Spokane, and a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Cole of Coeur d' Alene, Idaho.

DIED. 7 June 1902:

McCubbins—In this city, May, 30, 1902, Mr. Samuel McCubbins, aged 67 years, 10 months and 11 days. The funeral occurred from the Christian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. O. J. Gist officiating.

Apr 1940

Mrs. Sarah McCubbins

Mrs. Sarah A. McCubbins, 96, died at her home on South Fourth St. Monday at about 5 p. m. after a brief illness. Funeral services were held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel Thursday at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. Herbert F. Jones of the Christian church in charge, and burial was made at the family plot in the Dayton cemetery.

Sarah Stevens was born in Keokuck, Iowa, February 24, 1847, and in 1852 at the age of five she crossed the plains with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Stevens. The family settled at Silverton, Oregon, and there Sarah Stevens was married to Samuel McCubbins in 1862. In 1875 Mrs. McCubbins and her family moved here and settled on a homestead on Eckler mountain where she lived until the death of her husband in 1902. Since that time she has made her home in town.

Mrs. McCubbins was the mother of nine children, four of whom survive, Arthur McCubbins, Dayton, Mrs. Bertha Frahm, Hanson, Idaho, Mrs. Ada Wortman, Portland, and Mrs. Rosina Douglas, Butte, Montana. She also leaves 26 grandchildren, one of whom, Mrs. Lena Parsons, she took into her home at the age of 18 months and reared as her own daughter. She also leaves many great-grandchildren and several great-great grandchildren. Mrs. McCubbins was a sister of the late Mrs. Add Cahill who died several years ago

Mrs. Luesa Fischer

Mrs. Luesa Fischer, one of Dayton's oldest and best known residents, died at her home Tuesday after a long period of gradually failing health. Funeral services have not been made pending the arrival of her granddaughter, Miss Cora E. Hoss, who is expected today.

The deceased was born in Hanover, Germany July 16, 1843 and came to America April 18, 1872. She first went to Wahash, Minnesota where she lived for eleven years then came to Dayton. She arrived here March 20, 1883 and this had ever since been her home. She united with the Christian church May. 16, 1912 and was a devoted member. Mrs. Fischer is survived by one son, William Hoss of this city, and two grandchildren, Miss Cora E. Hoss of Tacoma, and Amos Hoss of Sacramento, California.

DAVID BASCOM GERKING AND MAY GERKING. Mother and Father of Winifred Gerking Stonecipher. Homesteaded in lower Spring Valley.

DAVID B. GERKING

David Bascom Gerking, born March 25, 1854, came West to Waitsburg in 1878. He died in 1940 when 86.

He was the father of Winifred Gerking Stonecipher, Mrs. W. H. Stonecipher. Winifred and Harvey Stonecipher had six children: Lola Conover (deceased), Grace Fletcher, Blanche Cox, James D., Harvey and Chester.

He was 24 when he left Nebraska, headed for the "Walla Walla Country."

The following is from information given to the family by him on a visit in February, 1934.

"I started for the Walla Walla Country on the first day of April, 1878, and landed in Walla Walla on the 19th of April. I have never regretted that I came to the Territory as it was much better in every way and the climate is so much pleasanter than Nebraska blizzards and thunder storms.

Previous to coming to the West I was married to Mamie Allen in 1874. She was the only daughter of Mrs. M. M. Allen, a widow and a school teacher. Mother lived with us as long as she lived and was one of God's noble women. To our marriage were born two children, Chester and Winifred. Chester is still living in Tacoma, Washington. Winnie died the 25th of June, 1927.

When I first landed in Walla Walla I was nearly broke but had an ambition to do something for my little family. I went to a saw mill in the Blue Mountains and got a job of bull punching at $40 and board, per month. I thought I was saving money. I stayed with that one year, then took up a homestead in Spring Valley, eleven miles N.E. of Walla Walla. There we lived 19 years. During this time we went through the depressed times of the 90's. I had expanded my farming so I was raising from 6,000 to 10,000 bushel of wheat each year, yet the low prices kept me down. I sold some of the best quality as low as 25 cents a sack.

I have seen some very close, hard times but have always had plenty to eat and sometimes down to quite shabby clothes, yet I have been blessed with the best of health. I have had some serious grief and sorrow in losing both my first and second wife and am now looking over the shady side of life, nearly 80, and still enjoying wonderful health and hope to continue so. I live in Tacoma but am here on a visit with my grandchildren, Lola Conover and James Stonecipher and families and four great grandchildren (Claire and Adelle, Roberta and Jimmie.) I also have three other great grandchildren.

When I started for the west I left Omaha, Nebraska on April 1, 1878. We were 10 days on the train. At that time it was an emigrant train to San Francisco made up of emigrants exclusively. Then at San Francisco we took the steamer for Portland, Oregon. We were five days on the steamer, then up the Columbia by boat and portage around the Dalles to Wallula, then on the narrow gauge railroad 30 miles to Walla Walla. We were 19 days on the trip from Omaha, at that time unusually very fast time as many were on the way 25 to 30 days.

One of the impressive scenes on the trip across the plains of Utah was to see many men following along after the heavy March blizzard dragging dead cattle out of the snow drifts and skinning the hides off for shipping. Another impressive scene was on what at that time was the Red Desert in Wyoming. There was a large level plateau of country that we passed through. It looked as though there were many many thousands of wild sheep and antelope just roving over the range. It was a thrilling sight for me, a tenderfoot.

In San Francisco we had to wait one day for the steamer, "City of Chester," to start for Portland. The next morning, waiting on the dock, someone told me that for one to prevent sea sickness to suck the juice of limes. I tried, and could taste those blessed limes for a year afterward. I did not get much sea sick, but O how weak! The rest of the family had a similar experience.

The fare of the trip was $45 to San Francisco and then $25 on to Walla Walla.

I can't realize how time has passed until I see my grandchildren with their families. Another impressive scene to confirm how time has passed, I was down on the old homestead Friday, there are many trees there that I carried there on my shoulder and planted. Now some of them are over three feet through, impressive evidence of time."
