Family members and friends of the family are invited to attend. For further information about the reunion, individuals are asked to contact Mrs. Joe Banks of Dayton or Ben Bosley of Pomeroy.

Officers for the family reunion, appointed in 1961, are: Archie Fuller, president; Gletha Baier, treasurer; Gladys Banks, secretary; Marjorie Fuller, historian.

Jack Fuller, food and kitchen chairman; and grounds committee: Richard Britton, Jim Fuller, Ed Britton, Wes Banks, Lee Fuller and Mitch Fuller.

MRS. C. B. HOWARD

Mrs. C. B. Howard, one of Columbia county's most highly revered pioneers, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Boyd Smith of Pomeroy, Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock after a short illness. Funeral services were held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Mack Cahill of the Church of the Nazarene of Pomeroy, an old friend of the family, in charge. Beautiful duet music was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Cahill, and lovely floral offerings showed something of the feeling of the community for one who had been a friend and neighbor throughout the lives of most of the present residents of the county.

Trulutia Fuller was born February 24, 1846 near Orangeberg, Mason county, Kentucky. At the age of four years she moved with her parents to Bracken county, Kentucky, and three years later to Marshall county, Iowa, where the family lived until May 16, 1865. On that day they started westward with an emigrant train. Although only 19 years of age Trulutia Fuller drove a team of four horses the entire distance. The journey lasted for almost six long, weary months, and terminated in Walla Walla early in October.

Trulutia Fuller was married to Calvin B. Howard in September 1867 and soon afterwards moved to Columbia county which has since been the family home. To this union 10 children were born, six sons and four daughters, all but two of whom are living.

C. B. Howard died November 29, 1904, and these sons and daughters survive: William T., Warren M., and Forrest B. Howard of Columbia county, Walter A. Howard, Spokane, Mrs. Helen Smith, Pomeroy, Mrs. Effie Duty, Mrs. Lora McGee and Mrs. Kate Pool, all of Columbia county. One son, Arthur, passed away at the age of six, and Albert died October 15, 1933 at the age of 49 years. Mrs. Howard also leaves two brothers, James Fuller of Tucanon and Henry Fuller of Marengo, 15 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Howard was one of the most remarkable women this community has ever known. Although advanced in years, she was unusually active until a very short time ago, and her long life was filled with deeds of kindness and thoughtfulness for others. She will be greatly missed by her large family and her many friends. She was a member of the Women's Relief Corps and one of its most devoted workers.

Truck Plunges Off Pate Road Friday Morn

Two Girls Survive Wild Ride; Funeral Held on Tuesday

For the second time within two months a traffic accident claimed the life of a Dayton teenager as Helen Jeanette Fuller, 17, died at 3 a. m. Saturday, June 28, in Brining Memorial hospital from injuries suffered in a pickup wreck which happened Friday, June 27.

The girl, driver of the pickup truck which plunged nearly 200 feet down the hillside off Pate road, suffered a brain concussion and other injuries in the wreck.

Passengers in the pickup as it careened down the steep slope were Emma Mix, 20, of Spokane, sister of Mrs. R. E. Brown of Dayton, and Linda Brown, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown of Dayton. Miss Mix escaped with a scratched and bruised left leg while Miss Brown suffered a broken jaw in the crash.

Miss Fuller is the daughter of Mrs. Roy (Martha) Ring of Dayton and Gerald Fuller of Shelton, Wash. Fuller is employed here this summer as a field worker employed by the field worker by the Green Giant Co.

Excessive Speed

The accident was caused, according to State Patrolman Avery Wiggins and County Sheriff E. E. Warwick by excessive speed on the gravel road and inexperience. Time of the wreck was placed at 11:45 a. m. Friday. It was reported that the trio were joy riding in the truck before the accident.

The wreck occurred as the three girls were traveling east, down the hill, on Pate road just north of the Touchet Valley golf course. From marks left on the road, it is believed Miss Fuller applied the brakes, lost control of the pickup, drove up on the left hand bank and then swerved over the edge and down the hill.

The truck, a 1950 one-half ton pickup, traveled about 120 feet down the slope, dropped over a ten-foot bank into a field road and skidded about 30 feet into the field where it came to rest on its right side.

When Sheriff E. E. Warwick and Dr. E. J. Harri arrived at the wreck scene, they found Miss Fuller lying in the truck cab. They kicked out the windshield to remove her from the vehicle.

Four members of the county highway department, Jim Burke, Ed Mackliet, Gary Heinrich and Gus Lorenz, took a pickup truck into the field and removed Miss Fuller on a stretcher to the hospital.

The pickup truck was towed from the wreck scene by the McCallister wrecker Friday evening.

Orville Fullertons Feted With Golden Wedding Party

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fullerton gathered Sunday afternoon, October 19, at the Huntsville school to honor the Columbia county couple on their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Highlight of the reception was a potluck dinner party followed by presentation of gifts and cards from a decorated money tree. The money tree, a graceful mountain mahogany, was placed on the stage overlooking the decorated tables. The tree was secured by Bill Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton were married October 21, 1908, at the Huntsville home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hawks.

Home at Huntsville

The couple have lived during nearly all of their married life at Huntsville. At one time they spent about three years in Dayton. Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton own and operate the Millstream Orchard at Huntsville. Their son, Laurence Fullerton of Waitsburg, is associated with his father in the orchard business. Mr. Fullerton stated that he still works nearly every day on the 30-acre orchard. The orchard packing house, familiar to motorists, is located at the side of the highway at Huntsville. Fullerton bought the packing house in 1936. An old elevator, another early-day landmark, was demolished this year after Fullerton sold the structure to Dayton Lumber Corporation in 1955.

Native Daughter

Mrs. Fullerton is the former Zelma Belle Hawks. She is a native daughter of Columbia county. Fullerton was born in Salem, Illinois, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fullerton. He and his parents came west to Columbia county in 1902. Both parents of the Fullertons were farmers.

Mr. Fullerton is a member of the Farm Bureau and the Waitsburg Methodist church. His wife is a member of the Pioneer Daughters of Washington, the Rebekahs and the Methodist church.

The couple are parents of four children, all of whom make their homes in this area. The children are: Mrs. Oakley (Pauline) Kendall of Huntsville, Laurence Fullerton of Waitsburg, Wayne Fullerton of Walla Walla and Mrs. Henry (Martha) Krause of Dayton. They are also proud grandparents to nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Anniversary Cake

The Sunday afternoon dinner party and reception was given by their children and families. The four-tiered wedding cake was presented by Mrs. Lelia Mays of Walla Walla, family friend, and served by Mrs. Clara Hawks. The cake was decorated with white frosting with accents of gold.

Tables were decorated and arranged by Mrs. Orley Woodward, Mrs. Oakley Kendall, Mrs. Henry Krause and Miss Hazel Kendall. A gold-lettered sign was placed above the stage. It read: "1908-1958, Orville and Zelma, Congratulations." The sign was prepared by Henry Krause.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton, guests were greeted by Mrs. Edna Miltner, Mrs. Charley Chambers, Herschel Fullerton and Will Hawks.

Mrs. Hollis Hawks, dining room hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Harold Denney. Helping with the serving were Susan Fullerton, Carol Dennis and Linda Krause. Floral decorations were provided by Mrs. Orley Woodward and Miss Hazel Kendall of Dayton.

Co-chairmen for the day were the daughters of the honored couple: Martha Krause, Isabelle Fullerton, Pauline Kendall and Pauline Fullerton.

Out of town guests attending the dinner and reception were: Mrs. Gertrude Kirns, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinder and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams, all of Spokane; Mrs. Clara E. Hawks of Liberty Lake; Mrs. Edna Miltner of Newport; Mrs. Nora J. Payne of Seattle; Mrs. Flossie Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richartz, Jerry Richartz, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schmella and children, Mike, David and Ann, all of Yakima.

Mrs. Estella Pulliam, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lee and family, Mrs. Eden White and son of Pasco; Mrs. Cleo Sprague of Van Nuys, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Fullerton and Herschel, Jr. and Susan of Milton-Freewater, Oregon; William Hawks, Mrs. Hollis Hawks and daughter, Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Fullerton and daughter, Lorena, all of Waitsburg.

Miss Vesta Payne, Mrs. Lela Mays, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Leid, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Don Goodhew and children, Fred, Denney and Eloise, Mr. and Mrs. John Stimmel, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beaver, Mrs. Barbara Winnett and children, Kimberly and Lisa, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fullerton and daughters, Kim and Janet, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kolbus and son, David, Ted Buroker, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dennis and children, Harold and Diane, all of Walla Walla.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Kendall and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Denney, Clifford Leid and granddaughter, Neita, Mrs. Mickey Leid, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bickelhaupt and children, Susan and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Huwe and children, Mr. and Mrs. Eccles McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delaplain, Mrs. Ida Hamilton and Mrs. Allen Polumsky and children, Mary Heinen, Mrs. Sid Mays, all of Huntsville, Hazel Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Orley Woodward, Mabel Rinker, Mr. and Mrs. Thyge Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hawksand children, Tommy and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krause and children, Linda, Joan and Gene, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Denney, all of Dayton.

Mr. Fullerton served as Sunday school superintendent at the Waitsburg Methodist church for 27 years.

"Mayor" of Huntsville

The Huntsville flour mill was built by J. H. Richardson in the winter of 1881-82. The site for the mill was donated by another pioneer of Huntsville, George Pollard. The mill was operated by Richardson until 1892 when it passed into the hands of Corbett Brothers, A. E. and Judson. The above information was secured from a recent edition of the Waitsburg Times.

For some time prior to 1936 the mill was idle. At that time Orville Fullerton bought the property. He sold the milling machinery and other than the feed mill department which he continues to operate, he converted the property into grain storage space, having accommodation for something slightly under 100,000 bushels. His eldest son, Lawrence, is associated in the business with him.

ORVILLE FULLERTON, as he stands before the scale beam of his mill, where as a boy he went to work when he first came to Huntsville.—Pix by Pat.

On the side Mr. Fullerton operates an apple orchard. For 25 years he was on the Huntsville school board, and it is likely that if Huntsville was an incorporated town, Mr. Fullerton would be mayor.

Mr. Fullerton was born in Salem, Illinois, in 1887. With his parents he came west in 1903 and in 1906 came to Huntsville and took a job, at 19, in the mill which he now owns.

In 1909 he was married to Zelma Hawks, who is the granddaughter of Mr. Hunt, founder of the town. Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton have four children, two boys and two daughters.

Huntsville, Longs station, Godman Springs and Whitman college were included in a feature of the Saturday Evening Post, January 20 issue, to represent the State of Washington.

The Post runs a feature entitled "Where Are You?" From a road map of a number of states, the feature shows a spot about the size of a quarter from each, and from this meager information the reader is supposed to identify the state from which the cut-out was made.

For Washington, the magazine took a spot bisected by the line between Columbia and Walla Walla counties with Huntsville in predominance, Whitman college and Godman Springs in secondary position, with Longs station barely in the circle.

The C-D, in order that the Saturday Evening Post, and the world, might have a more better knowledge of Huntsville, drove down there Saturday for a visit with Huntsville leading citizens.

Our first call was on Mrs. Wade Wolf, operator of a general store and postmaster. From her we learned that Huntsville was laid out as a townsite in 1858. The postoffice of Huntsville was established October 6, 1880, with master.

The townsite was a part of the homestead of Benjamin Hunt, according to Mrs. Wolf, and in laying it out he donated the central block to a United Brethren seminary, later built and known as the Washington Academy.

Mrs. Wolf, who was born at Arnprior, Ontario, Canada, in 1887, came to Huntsville with her parents as Miss Margaret Edith Corbett in 1907. The Corbetts had purchased the flour mill that was flourishing there at the time.

At the time the mill and academy were in their prime, Huntsville was quite a busy place with two stores, blacksmith shop and a few other places of business that went with the early day settlements. The academy was closed in 1909 and a decline in the commercial activity of the community continued until Mrs. Wolf's store and Fullerton & Son's feed mill and elevator are all that is left.

Mrs. G. G. Fullerton 1936

Mrs. G. G. Fullerton, one of Columbia county's oldest and best known native residents, died at the Brining hospital Monday afternoon following a surgical operation performed last Wednesday from which she was unable to rally. Funeral services were held from the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment was made at the family plot in the Dayton cemetery.

Alice Whetstone, whose parents were among the earliest homesteaders of the valley which bears their name, was born June 14, 1865, on the beautiful farm which was her home throughout her married life as well as her girlhood. Forty-four years ago she was married to G. G. Fullerton who died a number of years ago, and she had since operated the farm with the assistance of her children. The place was one of the finest dairy ranches in southeastern Washington, and was widely known for its herd of purebred registered cattle.

Mrs. Fullerton is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Harold Gwinn, Dayton, Mrs. Dallas Hennigh who lived with her mother on the Whetstone farm, and Mrs. Harry Henshaw, Spokane, and two sons, Alfred and Arlie Fullerton, both of this county. She also leaves a brother, Robert Whetstone of California, and and several grandchildren. Two sons preceded Mr. Fullerton in death, Oren, who died while enlisted in the army during the World war, and Thomas, who was killed in an accident on the farm at the age of 12.
