.....Peter Kitterman called for a Bible. In a strong, fervent voice he read from the Scriptures, concluding with the 23rd Psalm. Then he gave thanks for the Hand which had guided them through all their trials and tribulations. Then they ate."

Letter from John Moore to Levinia Hedrick, written from Keosauqua, Iowa.....mentions a tract of land bought by Martin Kuntz (Koontz) for $216 in gold, who was cripple, having only one leg. Someone was hired to build him a cabin. It was finished within the legal limit and was repossessed by Jim Woody. Friends of Mr. Kuntz went to the claim, tore down the shack on line of tract and another tract that Woody had jumped claim on and ran Woody and friends off. Woody came to town with a gang and there was a battle on the public square. Men fought with guns, axes, pitchforks, clubs, etc. One man was killed but the gang was run out of town. Woody swore out a warrant. A vigilance committee was formed. Vigilantes rode into town the next day, 60 strong, 2 abreast. They put the Deputy Sheriff back on his horse and headed him back to Fairfield. Elias Kitterman gave the defense attorney $5 and told him that the case had been settled out of Court. And that was the end of the little war.

"Some went even further north, where the prairies spread out, seemingly without end. Here went James Van Winkle and J.C. Baker of Indiana; and Lew Cobler, of Ohio and from Virginia, Joseph Kitterman and Beniah Dimmitt. These men and their families settled the community of Highland."

ELIAS KITTERMAN (Brother of Polly and Peter Kitterman).
...an honored pioneer of Wapello County, has been a resident of the Hawkeye State since the Spring of 1843, and in a period of 43 years spent in the locality has earned the high esteem of his fellow citizens. He has been a man of high moral character, upright and honorable in his transactions, industrious and enterprising, and possesses all the qualities which constitute an honest man and a good citizen. The subject of our sketch is a native of Virginia and was born in Franklin County near Richmond on the first day of September, 1809. He is the son of Henry and Anna (Domer) Kitterman of Pennsylvania and his father died in Virginia leaving his widow with a family of 11 children. Soon after the death of her husband, Mrs. Kitterman removed to Indiana and settled in Perry County, where she entered a tract of wild land, and, with the assistance of her children, opened up a farm in the midst of heavy timber. She was a lady of great energy and business talent, and determined to keep her little family together, which she accomplished. She trained them carefully to honest and worthy lives and to habits of industry and economy, and presented to them an example of a sincere and worthy christian life. She was prominently connected with the United Bretheran Church, and died upon the homestead which she had established in Perry County. Of her large family of children, two survive..the subject of our sketch and his brother, Peter.

Elias Kitterman was reared among the wilds of Indiana, and received his early education in the pioneer schools, which were conducted in rude log cabins. The first structure wherein he began his rudimentary studies was built of round back-logs, with puncheon floor and slabs for seats, and one end of the floor was occupied by a huge fireplace, the chimney being composed of mud and sticks. Daylight was permitted through a square place sawed in the logs, with greased paper for window panes, and the school books of those primitive days passed from the eldest to the youngest of the family and were perused as long as they could hold together. As soon as able, Elias Kitterman assisted in the labors around the homestead and remained with his mother's family until his marriage which occurred in 1828. The maiden of his choice was Miss Sarah Archibald, who bore him two children,...William who is now deceased, and Mary Anne, who became the wife of Martin Koontz of California. Mrs. Sarah only remained a companion of her husband for three years, dying in 1831. Mr. Kitterman, for his second wife, married Lydia Redman, and of this union there were born four children; Sarah, the wife of Alfred Bowland, of Highland Township, Wapello County; Nancy, married to Jefferson Thompson, also of this county; John, a resident of Mitchell County, Kansas; and George W. of Ottumwa, Iowa.

In 1842, Mr. Kitterman removed from Indiana to Bureau County, Illinois where he spent the winter, and the following Spring came to Wapello County and located in Dahlonga Township, where he entered a claim and commenced the opening of a farm. He had previously learned the trade of blacksmith, and he now worked alternately upon the farm and in the blacksmith shop and was the first man to build a shop of the kind in the township of Dahlonga. In early manhood he exhibited those traits of character which afterward earned for him so thoroughly the respect and confidence of his associates. He was well informed and intelligent and kept himself posted on matters of general interest. He was elected the first Justice of the Peace in Dahlonga Township, serving four years, and was entrusted with other local offices.

Mrs. Lydia Kitterman departed the life in Ottumwa in 1875. The third marriage of Mr. Kitterman took place on the 19th of November 1876, the lady of his choice being Miss Kate Cooper, of Illinois. They occupy a handsome residence in Ottumwa, and are surrounded by all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life in a home which possesses all the appliances of cultivated taste and ample means.

When Mr. Kitterman first came to Wapello County, he was obligated to have his milling done at Bonaparte, Iowa, in Van Buren County, the trip frequently consuming a week's time. He commenced life at the foot of the ladder and has climbed to his present position solely through his own efforts and the inheritance of enterprise and industry transmitted to him by his excellent and worthy parents. In the old pioneer days he was sometimes compelled to work for 25¢ a day but was always disposed to make the best of circumstances and do the very best he could, whatever might be the difficulties by which he was surrounded. Mr. Kitterman cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson and subsequently affiliated with the Whig Party, and when the latter was abandoned by the substitution of the new Republican Party, he cordially supported the principles of the latter and has uniformly cast his vote in their support since that time. He is now living in the enjoyment of the fruits of his earlier toils, and looks back with satisfaction over a well-spent and honorable life.

Bean-Kitterman Bout Signed for July 4; $300 to Winner with Red Cross Benefits

Alex Bean and Joe Kitterman will try for conclusions at the T. J. Riley Grove Independence day. The contract has been signed as made up by Mr. Riley, E. V. Hooppe and Jake Abegg, the match to start at 12:30 within a tent wall enclosure and admission price charged. In the event of storm or other inability to hold the contest the committee, composed of seven well known men of the city and county will determine where the event shall be staged.

The Red Cross will be benefited. The purse is five hundred dollars and it will be divided with 60 percent to the winner and 40 percent, $200, to the Red Cross the loser not getting any part of the purse. For any amount over five hundred dollars as a purse the money which would be admission price totaled will be divided 60 and 40 with the loser getting the 60 percent that he may expect a fair remuneration for his appearance in which is expected to be the memorable sport event of this part of Iowa.

Bean Visits Kitterman.

Friday morning Mr. Bean in company with Mr. Riley appeared at Hedrick with the contract ready for signature. Hedrick was pleased to see Mr. Bean and showed him around the village with royal hospitality. The two wrestlers then talked business and it was soon arranged for the meeting of these men about whom so much has been talked and written in the past six months. The men were ready a few weeks ago to decide the question of their ability pitted against each other and the audience was one of the biggest that ever came to the Grand for an entertainment of this character. Bean, it will be recalled, made a misstep while descending the stair from his dressing room and to enter the ring and he sustained painful injuries that prevented the match going on, greatly to the disappointment of those present from all sections of the country. The willingness of Bean to restle Kitterman has been asserted time and again and finally it is now all programed with every assurance the men will settle the mooted issues of their class as mat artists, Bean as a middleweight and the veteran blacksmith of Hedrick slightly above the limit of 160 pounds ringside.

No Weight Stipulation.

The match will go on with out weight requirements, catch-as-can, to a final two fall in three. The time limit has been eliminated and the several thousand who will try to see the match are certain to have a go for their money, barring accidents.

Bean In Training.

Bean, the Ottumwa grappler, is taking on training daily, his morning runs covering several miles and each succeeding day the work just a bit more extended and gruelling. He is already in very good shape and expects to be in the pink when the referee speaks the word July Fourth. Kitterman was trained for the match of some time ago by Charles Rentrop and it is presumed the same advantages will be had this time. Rentrop is the famed middleweight champion of Europe and appeared at the Grand June 26 against the old middle-weight champion Ketonen and each man winning a fall with Ketonen injured, and unable to come back for the final round. Rentrop was declared the winner.

Ottumwa Will Attend.

The big celebration program will draw thousands from the cities of this part of the state as in addition to the restling bout there is to be a variety of entertainment of highest order and much of the money invested during the day will find the Red Cross treasury to help win the war.

J. P. Kitterman

J. P. Kitterman died at the Brining hospital Saturday evening from pneumonia after but a few days of illness. He was apparently in the best of health until stricken by the fatal malady, and his death came as a great shock to his family and friends. Funeral services were held from the First Christian church Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Frank Van Doren officiating, and interment was made at the family plot in the Dayton cemetery.

Joseph Peter Kitterman was born in Iowa June 28, 1874, and lived there until about 18 years ago when he came to Dayton to take employment with the firm of Gosney and Sanders who ran a machine and blacksmith shop. He later opened a horseshoeing shop of his own which he operated until his death.

The deepest tragedy touched his life several times, but he bore his sorrows with the greatest fortitude. He lost his wife and a son in the spinal meningitis epidemic which took such a heavy toll of lives a decade or more ago, and a second wife also preceded him in death. He leaves three sons, Hessel, Jack and Billy Kitterman, all of Dayton and four daughters, Mrs. Hazel Startin, Mrs. Bernice Tewart and Miss Frances Kitterman of this city, and Mrs. Beatrice Templar of Tacoma. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge and other fraternal organizations.

BERLIN KITTERMAN DIES IN TACOMA

Disease Takes Young Man Shortly After Mother's Funeral.

A tragic death resulting from the recent spinal meningitis epidemic was that of Berlin Kitterman, second son of J. P. Kitterman of this city, who came over from Tacoma just two weeks ago to attend the funeral of his mother. He came down with the disease a few days after returning to Tacoma, and died Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Private funeral services were held at the cemetery Tuesday afternoon following the arrival of the train from the coast.

The young man was about 21 years of age and came here from Iowa with his parents when still a young boy. He graduated from the Dayton high school several years ago, and had since been in Tacoma where he had been attending business college and working part time in a grocery store. He was one of the finest boys this community has known, and he was universally liked. His death following so soon upon that of his mother is doubly hard for his family, who has the deepest sympathy of the entire community. He leaves his father, J. P. Kitterman of this city, three brothers, Hessel, of Tacoma, Maxwell and Billy Kitterman of this city, and four sisters, Mrs. Hazel Startin, and Misses Beatrice, Bernice and Frances Kitterman all of this city.

WELL KNOWN MATRON, SUCCUMBS TO DISEASE

Mrs. J. P. Kitterman died at the Walla Walla General hospital Wednesday morning at about three o'clock of the dread disease which is epidemic here this week. She was taken ill on Tuesday and was rushed to Walla Walla that evening before seven o'clock but all efforts to save her were without avail. No funeral arrangements have yet been made pending word from several of her children who are on the coast.

Mrs. Lizzie Kitterman was born in Tracy, Iowa, December 5, 1878, and grew up there. She continued to live in that state long after her marriage and the family did not come to Dayton until eight or nine years ago. Besides her husband J. P. Kitterman, Mrs. Kitterman is survived by eight children, Hessel, Berlin, and Beatrice Kitterman of Tacoma, Bernice, Maxwell, Mrs. Hazel Startin, and Billy and Frances Kitterman all of Dayton.

Mrs. J. P. Kitterman Suddenly Passes Away

Mrs. J. P. Kitterman died from heart trouble at her home in this city Monday night at about 10:30. She had been aware of the malady a comparatively short time, and had not suffered a very serious attack until Monday morning. Funeral services were held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. C. D. Pershall of the United Brethren church in charge.

Lilly Pearl Brunton was born in Missouri July 28, 1881. She came to this country when very young and lived first in Garfield county. She was married to Clarence Foster and to this union several children were born. Dayton had been her home the greater part of her life, and last year she was united in marriage to J. P. Kitterman who survives her. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Ted Kenworthy and Miss Florence Foster of this city, one son, Wilbur Foster of Kamiah, Idaho, her father, Daniel Brunton of Dayton, a brother, Tom Brunton of Port Angeles, five sisters, Mrs. Roy Scoggin, Mrs. Jim Welsh and Mrs. Buzz Messinger of this city, Mrs. Nellie Scoggin of Pomeroy and Mrs. Mary Burgess of California, and several step-children to whom she had been a devoted mother. She was a member of the United Brethren church for many years.

Hazel Startin

Hazel J. Startin, 92, died Dec. 4, 1994, at the Booker Annex Nursing Home.

The funeral was 11 a.m. Thursday at Hubbard-Rogg Chapel, 1111 S. Second St., Dayton. The Rev. David Bruce officiated. Burial was in the family plot in Dayton City Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

Mrs. Startin was born Jan. 6, 1902, in Hedrick Iowa, to Joseph and Elizabeth Alloway Kitterman. She came to Dayton in her last year of high school.

On Oct. 11, 1924, she married Sedic E. Startin. They lived in Potlatch, Idaho, before returning to Dayton in 1926. In addition to raising her family, she was a telephone operator for more than 20 years.

Mr. Startin died July 30, 1968. Mrs. Startin was a member of the Dayton First Christian Church. She enjoyed needlework and loved to read.

Surviving are three sons, Robert, Joe and Ray Startin, all of Dayton; four daughters, Shirley Malean of Stanwood, Wash., Pat Roy of Lapuente, Calif. Janice Macklitt of Richland and Joyce Lorenzen of Tualatin, Ore.; a brother, Jack Kitterman of Spokane; two sisters, Beatrice Kitterman of Spokane and Frances Stodes of Dayton; 21 grandchildren; and many great grandchildren. She was preceded in death by one son, Fay Startin; two brothers, Hessel and Billy Kitterman; and a sister, Bernice Tewart.

F. M. GODFREY DEAD.

Well Known Hedrick Citizen Passed Away Thursday.

Francis M. Godfrey died Thursday afternoon March 28, 1913, at the home of Philip Ritter, northwest of town. The funeral services were held at the Union Chapel church, Saturday at 11 o'clock, being in charge of his pastor, Rev. Charles B. Hankins of the M. E. church.

Francis Marion Godfrey was born in Hocking county, Ohio, August 12, 1837. At the age of six years he moved with his parents to Grant county, Indiana. In the year 1856, the family moved from Indiana, settling in Wapello county.

On March 28, 1858, he was united in marriage to Mary R. Hagan. To this union were born three children. Six years later—March 28, 1864—the second child died; five days later his wife died; two days later the oldest boy died and three days later the baby died. Thus, in eleven days Mr. Godfrey was bereft of wife and family.

He enlisted in the army in 1862, but was honorably discharged in 1863 for disability. On the 9th of May, after the death of the family, who were so quickly cut down by diphtheria, he again enlisted and served until the regiment was mustered out, he being a member of both the 36th and 47th Iowa Volunteers.

In September 1860 Mr. Godfrey was converted in a revival meeting held by the Baptist people, in Martinsburg. He remained a Baptist for seven years and then joined the Mt. Tabor Methodist Episcopal church, two miles west of Highland Center.

November 15, 1866, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Joanna Harris, who preceded him in death by about six weeks. Mr. Godfrey lived in Ottumwa for 18 years. During this time he was a member of the First M. E. church. In 1891 he moved to Hedrick, where he again joined the M. E. church by a letter issued by his pastor, W. G. Wilson. Of this church he has been a most faithful member, serving on the board of trustees and stewards, as well as being a class leader for the past ten years.

He was a farmer all of his life until 1873, when he sold out and went to Ottumwa. He was a commercial traveler for 14 years. Since coming to Hedrick he had lived a retired life.

Mr. Godfrey had been in failing health for some months. Since the death of his wife the end was seen to be drawing near and he closed his pilgrimage here last Thursday afternoon, being aged at the time of his death 75 years, seven months and 15 days.

He leaves to mourn his loss a number of relatives, among whom are a niece, Mrs. P. J. Ritter, who cared for him so tenderly during his last illness, two brothers and two sisters. It can truly be said of him,

"Servant of God, well done;
Thy glorious warfare's past,
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last."

Mrs. F. M. Godfrey Dead.

Mrs. F. M. Godfrey died Friday afternoon at the home of her niece, Mrs. P. J. Ritter, northwest of town, after a long period of ill health. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Union Chapel church, northwest of Hedrick, conducted by Rev. C. B. Hankins, of the Hedrick M. E. church, and the interment was made in the Abel cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey had been residents of Hedrick for many years, but on account of the illness of both, they were taken to the Ritter home a short time ago.

Joanna Kitterman was born in Perry county, Indiana, September 4, 1835. At the early age of 8 years, she with her parents, came to Wapello county, Iowa, settling near Dahlonega in 1843. Two years later the family settled on a farm in Highland township.

She was married February 6, 1854, to William H. Harris, who died in the army in December, 1862. She was again married to F. M. Godfrey, Nov. 15, 1866.

Mrs. Godfrey was converted in a protracted meeting held at Kirckville, in the member of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which church she remained a faithful member and strong in the faith of Christ to the day of her death.

She had been in poor health for some time. The chariot of the Lord dropped down to earth Friday, February 14, 1913, and "she was not, for the Lord had taken her to be with him." She was at the time of her death aged 77 years, five months and 10 days. She leaves to mourn their loss a loving husband, other relatives and a host of friends. While we are sorrowing she is comforted. It is God's way—He knows best.

E. C. McCloskey.

E. C. McCloskey, a pioneer resident of Wapello and Keokuk counties, died Saturday at his home at Hedrick after a lingering illness of nearly five years' duration. During his period of illness he bore his suffering with Christian faith and fortitude, always ready to submit to the One who knoweth and doeth all things well. Always looking forward to the time that he might enter into that glorious rest that knows no ending.

Mr. McCloskey was born on a farm in Wapello county, November 21, 1849 and departed this life September 27, 1919, at the age of 69 years, eleven months and twenty-four days. He spent his early life upon a farm in Wapello county and on October 26, 1876, he was united in marriage to Isabell Ritter, a native of Westmoreland county, Pa. To this union were born two children, Minnie Margaret, who died at the age of one year and Arthur B. McCloskey, of Ottumwa.

On April 4, 1879 he was deprived of his dear companion who left him to fight the battles of life alone. On March 26, 1882, he was united in marriage to Mary E. Kitterman, daughter of Joseph and Martha Kitterman, of Wapello county. She with six children and nine grandchildren survive him. Joseph B., William C. and Harley McCloskey and Mrs. Pearl Brant of Hedrick.

Rhetta, Wade and Gertrude, preceded him to the better land. Three brothers also survive, B. S. of Denver, Colo., Thomas, of Wanego, Kan., and J. F. of Ottumwa. Fare ye well, dear father, thy race is run, thy crown is won, now comes rest. The funeral services were held under the auspices of Independent Order of Odd Fellows. The services were held in Union Chapel and interment took place in the chapel cemetery.—Contributed.

OBITUARY.

KITTERMAN—Died at his home in the southern part of Keokuk county Sunday morning, March 18th, 1893, JOSEPH KITTERMAN, aged 76 years.

Mr. Kitterman moved from Illinois to this county with his family in 1842 and settled in Highland township on what was then known as "Big Cedar," and remained on the same farm until two years ago when he removed to the home in which he died. When the war of the rebellion broke out he gave three sons to the service, who all sickened and died in the south, and since that time he has been declining slowly but surely until the past year, he has been a confirmed invalid and great sufferer.

He was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church in Kirksville in the winter of 1860 and remained a consistent Christian until the day of his death. He was one of a large family of brothers and sisters all of whom have passed away except one brother, who returned from Oregon last fall to spend the remainder of his days with the one who is now deceased, and who is himself in very feeble health.

Mr Kitterman leaves a widow and four children to mourn their loss. Mrs. Frank Godfrey resides in the city; the others, Mrs. Elisha Broadhead, Mrs. Clark McCloskey and W. A. Kitterman live near the home of their mother. These, with all the grandchildren except three, were around the dying bed.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DEAR FATHER.

"With reverence gently we bear away
Our dear old father of many years,
And in the graveyard's bosom lay
His manly form with sorrowing tears.

For he, beyond life's common span,
With us has lived and walked abroad;
Has filled the measure of a man,
Love to his neighbor, faith in God.

His cheerful voice we hear no more,
No more his cheering form we meet.

"But who can point wherein he failed
As husband, father, brother, friend.

"Thus lived our father all his life,
And died with an unflinching trust,
With him the toils of life are o'er,
Among God's good and just."

Mrs. Martha Kitterman Dead.

Mrs. Martha Kitterman died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Godfrey, after a protracted illness. The funeral was held Sunday at the residence, conducted by Rev. C. R. Norton, assisted by Rev. A. T. Shortess. The interment was at the Abels cemetery.

Martha Archibald was born in Perry county, Indiana, November 18, 1818. She grew to womanhood in her native state and was married to Joseph Kitterman in October, 1834. About six years of their married life was passed in Indiana, when they came to Illinois. Here they remained but a few years, coming to Iowa in 1843 and settling in Wapello county, where they remained until twelve years ago, when they removed to Wapello county. About nine years ago Mr. Kitterman died.

Their oldest son and daughter were converted thirty-six years ago, when the parents followed the children and were happily converted to God and united with the M. E. church at Kirksville, under the pastoral labors of Rev. Hestwood. There were eleven children born to this union, five sons and six daughters. All of their children made a profession of faith in Christ. Three of the sons gave their lives to the service of their country and were killed in its defense. Four of the children, Mrs. F. M. Godfrey, Mrs. E. Broadhead, W. A. Kitterman and Mrs. E. C. McClosky, yet remain and were present at the funeral.

Mrs. Kitterman was severely afflicted for four months, during which time she was confined to her room nearly all the time and a large share of the time to her bed. Every attention that loving hands and hearts could administer was rendered, while all saw that the end was approaching. She bore her suffering with christian courage, frequently expressing to her pastor and others her christian hope and trust in God and her assurance of the other life. A short time before she passed away she called the name of her husband and no doubt had a vision of the other land.

She has gone to the rest of God's saints, and will await the coming of loved ones. May you all be prepared to meet her. C. R. N.

Obituary.

Alice Kitterman, daughter of Joseph and Martha Kitterman, was born in Wapello county, Iowa, April 4, 1851, and passed away Oct. 27, 1927 at 11 p. m., at the home of her son, W. E. Brodhead, in Dayton, Wash., at the age of 76 years, six months and 23 days.

She was united in marriage to Elisha Brodhead Dec. 23, 1869, who preceded her in death 19 years ago. To this union seven children were born, three of whom are living—Charles and W. E., of Dayton, Wash., and Cecil, of Hedrick; also one sister, Mrs. Mary McCloskey, of Hedrick. There are eight grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Brodhead was a devout christian all her life; she was converted and joined the Methodist church at the age of 11 years, and later in life united with the Baptist church, being a member of the local church at the time of her death. This marks the passing of one of God's chosen ones, and she will be greatly missed by all who knew her, especially her children, for there is no wealth on earth compared to a Godly mother.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement, in the loss of our dear mother; also for the beautiful floral offerings.

W. B. Brodhead,
Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brodhead.

Miss Olive Sheets, of Hedrick, and Hessel Kitterman, of Hammond, Indiana, were married Friday at Trenton, Missouri. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sheets, of Hedrick, and has grown up in this vicinity. She is a very popular and estimable young lady, and has been prominent in church and social circles here. Mr. Kitterman also had lived here for several years until a few months ago, when he went to Hammond to take a position in a factory. The young couple came to Hedrick Sunday, and after a short visit here will go to Hammond to make their home.

W. A. KITTERMAN CALLED BY DEATH

FISH AND GAME WARDEN DIED AT HOME OF DAUGHTER SATUR-DAY EVENING.

William A. Kitterman, fish and game warden of this district for the past year, and a resident of Wapello county for the greater part of the fifty-eight years of his life, died Saturday night at 6 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anna Metcalf, corner Pennsylvania avenue and West street. The attending physician gives tuberculosis as the cause of his death. Mr. Kitterman had been in ill health since he received a blow on the head from a shovel in the hands of Ace Albertson in February while he was endeavoring to arrest the latter on the charge of illegal fishing. Following this attack, relatives say an abscess formed as a result of the blow, and tuberculosis developed. Albertson is now in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on the charge of assault with intent to kill. It is not known whether or not the charge will be made more serious since death has claimed Mr. Kitterman. Relatives stated this morning that although the wound inflicted by Albertson was not the direct cause, they believe it hastened death.

Mr. Kitterman was born in Wapello county, Highland township, and had resided here the greater part of his life. Previous to his position as game warden he was a blacksmith, following this trade at Hedrick. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge of Tracy, Iowa. He leaves a wife and nine children as follows: Joe Kitterman, Hedrick; Mrs. Bertha Hubanks, Lovilia;

Mrs. W. A. Kitterman Dead.

Mrs. W. A. Kitterman died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bayne Hardsocg, in Ottumwa, Sunday morning, after an illness of almost three years. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at one o'clock, at Union chapel, northwest of Hedrick, conducted by Rev. C. B. Hankins, of Morning Sun, and the interment was in the Abel cemetery.

Isadora Brodhead, daughter of Cornelius and Leah Brodhead, was born in Slaterville, New York, February 17, 1855, and was aged at the time of her death 59 years, six months and six days. She was married to William A. Kitterman September 11, 1873, and to them were born 12 children, ten daughters and two sons. The husband, one son and two daughters have gone before her to the better land. The children surviving were all present at the funeral. They are: J. P. Kitterman and Mrs. Frank Hart, of Hedrick; Mrs. Fred Hubanks, of Mason City; Mrs. John Dougall, of Hiteman; Mrs. Edgar Metcalfe and Mrs. Bayne Hardsocg, of Ottumwa, Mrs. Owen McWilliams, of Bloomington, Illinois, and Mrs. Omer Steigleder, of Minnesota, and Mrs. Orla Barber, of Ollie.

Mrs. Kitterman was converted about 30 years ago, and united with the Christian Union church. She lived a devoted christian. She was a great sufferer, but always bore her sufferings with great patience. Her daughters took care of her, and it was a labor of love. Nothing was too good for mother. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her children, four sisters, other relatives and many friends.

Mrs. Orla Dougall, Hiteman; Mrs. Anna Metcalf, Ottumwa; Mrs. Allie Hart, Hedrick; Mrs. Belle McWilliams, Tracy; Mrs. Dot Steigleder, Ollie; Mrs. Maye Hardsocg, Ottumwa; and Mrs. Jennie Barber, Ollie.

The remains were taken this afternoon to the home of Mrs. Hart, daughter in Hedrick. The funeral party will leave the Hart home tomorrow at 12 o'clock for the Christian Union church, four miles northwest of Hedrick, where funeral services will be held in charge of Rev. B. G. Hankins, pastor of the Methodist church of Agency. Interment will be made in the Abel cemetery.

Narrative History of the People of Iowa
By Edgar Rubey Harlan, LL. B., A.M.
Volume III Page 90 - 91
American Historical Society

GUY KITTERMAN, Ottumwa business man, is a native of Wapello County and is a member of one of the oldest families in this section of Iowa. The Kittermans as a family have been distinguished for much more than priority of settlement. They were a sturdy people, courageous pioneers in braving the hardships of the wilderness, and have furnished many capable men and women through the subsequent periods of development of the state.

Both Mr. Kitterman and his wife are descendants of the pioneer Kittermans. The Kittermans originated in Germany, and a branch of the family moved to Norway, and in the latter part of the 1700's three brothers, John, Henry and Peter Kitterman, came to America. Peter Kitterman, grandfather of Guy Kitterman, was a son of Henry Kitterman, one of these three brothers. He was born in Floyd County, Virginia, in 1809, being the seventh and youngest son in a family of fourteen children. The Peter Kitterman family came to Wapello County, Iowa in 1843. This part of Iowa Territory had not been yet opened for settlement. During the six weeks before lands were available the family camped with about three thousand Indians who were massed at the mouth of Sugar Creek, about a mile east of Ottumwa. Not far from Agency. The Indians had been congregated at this point preparatory to their removal from the territory. Peter Kitterman entered land and for many years conducted a pioneer blacksmith shop, carrying on that business until his death in 1887. He was known as one of the participants in the disturbance known as the Dahlonga war, when later settlers came in and tried to take the claims from the pioneers who had preceded them. Several casualties attended the troubles. Peter Kitterman from his original land grant established a burying ground. At the present time there are thirty seven graves in the cemetery. A number of years ago four sons of Peter Kitterman, William H., Elias, John N. and George P., transferred the title of the cemetery to the Kitterman Cemetery Association.

Peter Kitterman married Elizabeth Redman, and the son, Elias Kitterman, was born about three years before the family arrived in Iowa. Elias Kitterman married Matilda Giltner, and they were the parents of Mrs. Ola K. Edmunds and Mr. Guy Kitterman, who were born in Wapello County. Guy Kitterman was educated in the public schools and the Ottumwa Commercial College, and after graduating engaged in farming in Dahlonga Township, in the locality where his ancestors had settled on coming to Iowa. Mr. Kitterman after leaving the farm moved to Ottumwa, and owns and conducts a prosperous real estate and insurance business there. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity, and he and his family are active in the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. Guy Kitterman married a daughter of Christopher and Carolyne (Bennett) Kitterman, former residents of Wapello County and later of Chicago. Her grandfather, Henry Kitterman was a nephew of Peter Kitterman, the pioneer settler of Wapello County. Mrs. Kitterman's maternal grandfather, George T. Bennett, was a captain in the Union army during the Civil war, and she had three uncles who were in the same war. She has been voted an honorary vice president of the famous "Hornet Nest Brigade." Mrs. Kitterman has been well known as a singer at Ottumwa, and she is president of the Ottumwa Chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood. Mr. and Mrs. Kitterman's children are the fourth generation of the family in Iowa. They are Maxine, attending high school, and Ivor, in grade school.

SAMUEL KITTERMAN

Deeds of valor have been the theme of song and story throughout the ages. The world instinctively pays reference to the man who is willing to risk his life for the principles in which he believes. Among the veterans of the Civil War now living in Ottumwa is Samuel Kitterman, who was a lad of but fifteen years when he offered his services to the government, and on various hotly contested battle fields he gave evidence of his loyal support to the stars and stripes. In days of peace he made farming his life work until a recent date, when he retired from business, and is now enjoying a well earned rest.

Mr. Kitterman was born December 31, 1845, in Bureau county, Illinois, while his parents were en route to Iowa from Perry county, Indiana. In June, 1846, they arrived in Wapello county and Samuel Kitterman has since made his home within its borders. His father, Henry Kitterman, was a native of Virginia and a son of Peter Kitterman, a native of Germany. He in turn was a son of Justice Kitterman. It was the grandfather of our subject who became the founder of the family in the new world. When a young man he crossed the Atlantic to the United States with his two brothers, but later returned to Germany and had to serve his time in the army. He then came again to the United States and did military duty as a defender of American interests in the War of 1812. He died in Floyd county, Virginia, in 1824, having for thirty-four years been a resident of the new world, the date of his arrival in the United States being 1790. He married a lady who was a relative, and they became the parents of five sons and two daughters. Henry Kitterman, born in Virginia, removed westward to Indiana in pioneer times and in that state was married to Abigail Inlaw, who was born in Indiana. By a former marriage he had three children, while ten were born to his second union. His wives were sisters, the older being Betsy Inlaw. Following her decease he wedded Abigail Inlaw, who passed away in Wapello county in 1876. Henry Kitterman went to Kansas, where he died about 1871. He was not only an enterprising farmer, but was also a good mechanic, displaying skill especially in working in wood or leather. He made everything which he needed in the line of wood and iron implements and his ingenuity was of great worth in the pioneer districts where settlers had to depend largely upon their own resources for all the comforts and conveniences they had. Of the children of Henry Kitterman eight sons and three daughters are now living. Philip T., a resident of Tracy, Iowa, and Mary Jane, the wife of Joseph West of Winlock, Washington, were born of the first marriage. Another son of the first marriage, Middleton, died in 1858 when a young man. The children of the second marriage were: Samuel; Henry, who died at the age of two years; James Henry, who served for more than two years as a member of Company F, Seventh Iowa Infantry in the Civil War and is now living in Elk county, Kansas; George W., who was also a member of Company F., Seventh Iowa Infantry, and now makes his home in Muskegon, Michigan; Christopher C., of Chicago; Lydia Ann, the wife of Grant Clark of Creston; Elias, of Elk county, Kansas; Jerome B., a resident of Chillicothe, Iowa; Abraham Lincoln, of Geddes, South Dakota, and Hettie, living in Los Angeles, California.

Samuel Kitterman, brought to Wapello county in his infancy, was here reared upon the home farm. He listened to the talk of war before the outbreak of the rebellion and watched the program of events following the opening of hostilities. At length his patriotic spirit could no longer be fettered by farm duties and on the 17th of December 1861, he enlisted as a member of Company F., Seventh Iowa Volunteer Infantry, with which he served until the close of the war, or for three years and seven months, having veterinized at Pulaski, Tennessee. He enlisted when he was fifteen years of age, and while at the front he participated in the battles of Shiloh and Cornith, Mississippi, in many skirmishes and in the siege of Atlanta. On the 22nd of July, 1864, he was in the engagement at Atlanta on that side of the army where McPherson fell at Lay's Ferry. In eighteen minutes there the command lost seventy-two men out of three hundred who had responded for duty. Mr. Kitterman was with Sherman all the way through to Raleigh, North Carolina, and then on to Washington, where he participated in the Grand Review, the most celebrated military pageant ever seen in the western hemisphere. Thousands of the victorious Union soldiers marched through the streets of the capital and passed before the reviewing stand, where the president welcomed the returning Union Forces. After the war Mr. Kitterman engaged in cradling wheat and following his marriage, which occurred in 1868, he resided for one year in Monroe county upon a rented farm, but on the expiration of that period he returned to Wapello county and settled on Fremont Road, seven and a half miles north of the city. He there engaged in farming until 1908, and is still the owner of that tract of land of eighty acres, which he brought to a high state of development and improvement. He now makes his home with his son, S. A. Kitterman, in Ottumwa.

On the 20th of February 1868, Mr. Kitterman was united in marriage to Miss Mary O. Wilson, who was born in Clarion County, Pennsylvania, in 1848, and on coming to the west settled first in Delaware County, Iowa. About the close of the war her parents removed with their family to Wapello County, and here Mrs. Kitterman passed away in December 1907, her death being deeply regretted by all who knew her. Seven children were born of that marriage; Jennie May, now the wife of Philip Martin of Ottumwa; John H., of Willamins, Oregon; George Grant, a resident of Ottumwa; Samuel Ansal, of this city; Mrs. Ola A. Young, of Ottumwa; Orin Alexander, of Nicobrara, Nebraska; and Alta R., the wife of C.E. Abrams of Montana. All of the children were born on the home farm in Richland township.

Since age conferred upon him the right of franchise Mr. Kitterman has given his political support to the Republican party, and he has held the office of constable and Justice of the Peace. He has also been a school director in Richland township for nine years and believes that the schools should keep in touch with program of the times. He is a member of the Presbyterian church, of the Grand Army of the Republic and of the subordinate lodge and encampment of Odd Fellows. A review of his life displays many sterling traits of character, not the least of which is his loyalty to his country and his loyalty to duty at all times. He has ever been faithful in friendship, and he enjoys the high regard of his fellowmen, among whom he has now lived for almost three score and ten.

KITTERMAN CEMETERY

The cemetery is located in Section 15, Dahlonga Township, Wapello County, Iowa about 1/8 mile off the main road. The road to the wooded cemetery can be easily missed as it appears to lead to a newer farm home, but continues on to the cemetery. [See Map]

Grant Kneff, Retired Hard Rock Miner, Turns to Rock Hounding for Hobby

24 Sept 1959

FUTURE JEWELRY—Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kneff of Dayton are pictured above at their home in Dayton as they inspect some of the rocks which they have brought from Idaho and surrounding areas for their hobby of making jewelry and trinkets. A former hard rock and placer miner, Kneff is a confirmed rock hound and member of the Touchet Valley Rock club.

Daytonite Finds Gems, Minerals In Idaho Mountains

By Fred Norris

Grant Kneff of Dayton, retired hard rock miner and skim digger, has become a confirmed rock hound in recent years and now busies himself with making costume jewelry and trinkets from the rocks he finds in some of his old haunts near Warrens, Idaho.

Kneff has worked many of the old diggings in the Warrens district and at times was very successful in finding gold in the old dumps left from dredging outfits. He panned along the Big Salmon in the primitive area and suffered the rigors of winter in the high country of the mountains. He is well acquainted with the different deposits of gems and minerals to be found there.

Trip to Idaho

He and his wife returned recently from a trip to Warrens. He reported that the little community was severely shaken by the recent quake. Kneff said that there was a lot of renewed activity in hard rock and placer mining going on in some of the old mines and that new capital was being invested.

On the recent trip, he visited War Eagle mountain and the old Becker mine in search of smoky quartz, a formation of grey and black crystals, and chalcidony, a crystallized variety of the same mineral. He was fortunate in finding some of these rare minerals and will make them into trinkets for

When Kneff first went into this area 20 years ago, it was a wild mining district and Warrens and Burgdorff were reached mostly by pack trains and rough mountain roads were nothing more than cow trails.

The miners were rough and tough and claim jumping was practiced by some, but Kneff played the part of the lone wolf and did not mingle with the brawling crowd. Most of his panning for gold was done along the South Fork of the Salmon river inside the boundaries of the Payette National Forest and in the deep canyons of the Big Salmon. The hard rock mining was done along the breaks of the Big Salmon at an elevation of 6,000 feet or more.

When signs of gold appeared in the small streams, Kneff would follow upstream until the signs disappeared. Then he would comb the mountainsides looking for the ore veins. This was hard work trying to locate a rich vein of gold, but finding a tiny fleck of the stuff spurred him on in hopes of finding the riches a miner dreams of.

"I did not strike it rich back in those mountains, but I learned to live with nature and during those long winter months when I was snowed in with only a sack of beans, some flour and a side of bacon, I had time to study some books on geology and to identify numerous rocks and minerals," Kneff said. "This information goes hand-in-hand with my hobby of a rock hound and it is something I can enjoy as time goes on."

Kneff is a member of the Touchet Valley Rock club and takes an active interest in the meetings and imparts his knowledge of rocks and minerals to fellow members.

Tons of rocks gathered from various localities surround the Kneff home on West Main street and he is willing at all times to show his collection to any youngster who shows an interest in them. He often shares his stock with youngsters by giving a young rock hound samples of his valued possessions. Omer Kneff of Dayton is his brother.

During early spring and late fall, Kneff works for the Aurora Orchard Co. on the North Touchet. During the layoff periods, he will be taking to the hills or mountain regions to look for another rock.

31 Dec 1904

Mr. W. Kneff returned Friday from Lewiston, where he had been visiting relatives for a week. He brought home two samples of marble that is being quarried on Snake river, forty miles above Lewiston. The stone is of a fine quality and takes an excellent polish. It seems to be equally as good as any of the eastern marble.

Mr. Daniel Fite has sold his two-acre tract advertised in the Chronicle last week, and will depart for Peoria, Illinois, today. He will be accompanied by A. Kneff, who is a brother of Mrs. Fite. Mr. Kneff has not been East since he was a young man and has a brother that he has never seen. Mr. Fite sold his property to Mr. Whipple.

Ryerson-Kneff.

Thursday evening at 8:30 Neil Ryerson and Fairy Kneff, accompanied by the bride's father, Earl Kneff, with F. W. Shaw as witnesses, visited the Congregational manse, where Rev. W. C. Gilmore solemnized the service of marriage and pronounced them husband and wife.

Neil Ryerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ryerson, and is one of our most popular young men. The bride is a great favorite among her friends.

WILLIS KNEFF is adding to the wealth of Columbia county by his wisely bestowed labors in farming on his estate about three miles southeast from Dayton, where he has been at work industriously for the past twenty-five years. His stability and his substantial qualities make him an excellent citizen and a first-class farmer. He was born in Indiana on July 15, 1841, the son of Christopher and Elizabeth (Lewis) Kneff, natives of Ohio and Pennsylvania. When seven, Willis was brought by his parents from his native state to Illinois, where he remained until grown to manhood. He was educated in the public schools and followed farming. In 1875, he came on west to Nebraska and there farmed for five years. The next move was to the enticing territory of Washington, where he settled on land which is his home to this day. He is well aware of the advantages of the country and was pleased sufficiently to make it his home, and expects to remain here until his death.

In 1862 Mr. Kneff enlisted in the One Hundred and Eighteenth Illinois and was under Sherman and Grant for his time of service. He participated in the river campaign and the siege of Vicksburg and although never wounded, he was in many trying places and dangers that would have resulted in his death, had it not been for a favoring Providence that shielded him. He was in many conflicts and ever acquitted himself as a man of bravery and patriotism, as he is. His record as a soldier is first-class and marks an epoch in his life of which he may well be proud. On account of sickness, which was extended, he was honorably discharged in 1864, although he wished to remain until the war was over. Fate decreed otherwise and he was forced to languish while his comrades went on to the front and the end of the war.

On January 25, 1867, in Illinois, Mr. Kneff married Miss Hattie New, the daughter of Richard M. and Sarah (Parker) Holmes, natives of New York. Mrs. Kneff was also born in New York, the date being 1855. To this marriage the following named children have been born, Earl, Della, Cora, Daisy and Vanhee. Mr. Kneff is a member of the G. A. R. and a man of excellent standing in the community.

Mr. W. Kneff returned Friday from Lewiston, where he had been visiting relatives for a week. He brought home two samples of marble that is being quarried on Snake river, forty miles above Lewiston. The stone is of a fine quality and takes an excellent polish. It seems to be equally as good as any of the eastern marble.

Ryerson-Kneff

Thursday evening at 8:30 Neil Ryerson and Fairy Kneff, accompanied by the bride's father, Earl Kneff, with F. W. Shaw as witnesses, visited the Congregational manse, where Rev. W. C. Gilmore solemnized the service of marriage and pronounced them husband and wife. Neil Ryerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ryerson, and is one of our most popular young men. The bride is a great favorite among her friends.

Willis 'Grant' Kneff

DAYTON — Willis "Grant" Kneff, 81, of 123 W. Dayton Ave. died Sunday at Dayton General Hospital.

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Thursday, at the Hubbard-Rogg Funeral Home Chapel. Rev. Robert Shields will officiate. Burial will follow at the Dayton City Cemetery.

Kneff was born Aug. 25, 1897, in Baileysburg, Wash., to Willis Earl and Lilia Bailey Kneff. He attended Pine Grove, and Star schools.

Kneff worked in area sawmills, orchards, packing houses and lumberyards. He also mined for gold in Columbia County and in Idaho.

He was married to Sarah Robertson July 25, 1952, in Dayton.

Kneff is survived by his wife at home; four stepsons, George Robertson of Rosalia, Wash.; Russell Robertson of Roundup, Mont.; Richard Robertson of Lewiston, Idaho, and James Robertson of Mead, Wash.; one step-daughter, Nellie Phillips of Lewiston; one sister; and many nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by two sisters and one brother.

Kneff was a member of the Dayton Christian Church.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Columbia County Ambulance Fund.

Mr. Daniel Fite has sold his two-acre tract advertised in the Chronicle last week, and will depart for Peoria, Illinois, today. He will be accompanied by A. Kneff, who is a brother of Mrs. Fite. Mr. Kneff has not been East since he was a young man and has a brother that he has never seen. Mr. Fite sold his property to Mr. Whipple.

Sarah Kneff 1987

Sarah Kneff, 80, of Lewiston, Idaho, died at Tri State Memorial Hospital in Clarkston.

Mrs. Kneff lived in Dayton from 1947 to 1983, except for a year from 1956 to 1957 when she and her husband Willis G. Kneff, prospected at Warren, Idaho. She had worked at the Green Giant cannery in Dayton.

The couple married in 1952 at Dayton. Mr. Kneff preceded her in death in 1979.

Mrs. Kneff liked rock hunting and took trips to collect rocks. She was a former member of a rock club in Dayton. She enjoyed fishing, cooking, quilting, sewing and crocheting.

Born July 8, 1907 at Keystone, South Dakota, she was the daughter of George and Emma Hardesty. In 1925, she moved to Ardmore, South Dakota, where she worked on several farms and at a soft water plant. She worked for Potlatch Corporation in Lewiston, for a short time.

In 1925 she married Clarence Robertson at Ardmore. They were divorced in 1950.

Mrs. Kneff is survived by four sons, George Robertson, of Malden, Washington, Russell Robertson, of Roundup, Montana, Richard Robertson, of Lewiston, Idaho and James Robertson of Spokane; one daughter, Nellie Phillips, also of Lewiston; nine grandchildren and seven great grandchildren; three sisters, Clara Roberts, her twin, of Prescott, Washington; Genevieve Chamber of Sprague and Anna Block, of Lewiston.

She was preceded in death by six brothers, two half brothers and one half sister.

Graveside services were held at the Lewis-Clark Memorial Gardens at Lewiston. Memorials may be made to the Heart Fund or Diabetes Fund.

H. K. Kneff Dies.

H. K. Kneff, a pioneer of this county died Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the court house, where he had been cared for during the past few weeks. Mr. Kneff was 82 years of age. He came to this county about 30 years ago from Illinois, where he was engaged in farming. Since coming to this country his time has been occupied mostly in teaming and gardening.

He is survived by two sons and a daughter, all of this county. His sons are Willis Kneff, Hiram Kneff. Mrs. Jane Fite, of Eckler Mountain is the daughter. Mr. Kneff is also survived by two brothers, one on the Sound and another in the East.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Hubbard & Rogg chapel.

Sarah Knox

Sarah Knox, 84, died Aug. 19, 1993, at Franciscan Health Care Center in Walla Walla.

The funeral was at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Hubbard-Rogg Chapel, Dayton. The Rev. David Hills officiated. Burial was at the Dayton City Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

Mrs. Knox was born Sept. 16, 1908, in Starbuck, Wash., to Ancil and Florence Fisher Rayburn. She attended schools in Starbuck and Dayton.

She married Galen Knox on Aug. 8, 1929, in Dayton; he died April 11, 1942. She spent most of her life in Dayton except for a year in St. John, Wash., and 10 years in Yakima.

She worked at Robison Nursing Home in Dayton and the hospital there. She enjoyed music, flower gardening and reading.

Survivors include a son, Galen Grant Knox of Endicott, N.Y.; a daughter, Alice Knox of Spokane; four sisters; Hazel McRayde of Yakima, Mary Nick of Dayton, Helen Thompson of Spokane and Amy Furufie of Minot, N.D.; nine grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; and four great-great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by a son, Allen Knox; and a brother, Howard Rayburn.

Zane Kneff 6-2-04

Zane Kneff age 64 passed away May 26, 2004 at his home in Spokane Washington after a long struggle with Emphysema. Born July 20, 1939 in Dayton, Wash. to Omer and Millicent Kneff. Zane graduated from Dayton High School, attended Spokane Community College and graduated from Eastern Washington University. He was employed for many years as an inhalation therapist and was involved in teaching inhalation therapy at Spokane Community College. He retired for health reasons in 1992. Survived by his brother and sister-in-law, Mike and Shirley Kneff, Spokane, WA; a granddaughter Richell Winfrey, Spokane, WA; cousins Eddie Morris and Gay Neal; and his cat, Alex. Preceded in death by a daughter, Kay Winfrey.

Memorial services pending for Saturday, June 5, 2004 at Riplinger Funeral Home 4305 N. Division St. Spokane, WA. Cremation. 509-483-8558

CHAPTER I

ON TO OREGON

WHY "COUSIN BILL"?

There are two reasons for this name: First, Bill Knight is a first cousin of the author's mother. The second reason is more important: he exemplifies the ideals of an American citizen, the kind that built our nation: doing his bit in taming the wild country, wild horses and, yes, wild men. He is honest and free from the greed for power or money, and has lived his life well from the time he crossed the plains in 1865 to the days of 1970 when he has seen men walk on the moon.

LEAVING MISSOURI

In the spring of 1865 at Milan, Missouri, two women were visiting. One remarked, "The Harris family must be crazy. They are all going to Oregon as soon as the weather gets better."

The other woman responded, "Yes, they sure seem to be in a hurry to get away. Sold their 320 acres of good bottom land cheap. The whole family is going, including the girl who married young Andrew Knight. She has a little girl and a tiny baby, Bill they call him. He was just born in February. Can you imagine taking a tiny baby on an all summer trip through such wild country? He will never get there alive."

"It is a dangerous trip for any one. Many grown people do not live to reach Oregon."

"Old Joe Harris is no spring chicken himself. He was grey as a badger twenty years ago."

"At least he is old enough to have more sense, but did you know something else? Rebecca, the girl that married young Ned Morelock, is pregnant. How about a pregnant woman riding to Oregon on a wagon, riding all summer across a wild country where there are no roads?"

The Harris family paid little attention to what the neighbors were thinking or saying. Joseph Harris had just been discharged from the Union Army. Soldiers were passing through the country on their way home. There was turmoil, disorder and devilment. Joseph Harris was tired of war and all of the disorganization that followed it. Serving in the Union Army after being born in North Carolina made the war more disheartening to him. Stories about the Willamette Valley in Oregon, the place where the big red apples grew, appealed to him. It would be a new land, a new home, far away from hatred and war.

Joseph Harris was no coward. He was a devout "Hardshell" Baptist who wanted a home away from strife, a chance to build a home in a new country. When asked about the long hazardous trip he seemed little concerned. He said, "Right after Mary Ann and I were married, I carried my wife and all of my possessions from Virginia to Missouri on one mule."

Neither was Mary Ann Harris a coward. While Joseph Harris was in the army she learned that he was desperately sick. She rode a horse to his camp. There a sentry stopped her and told her that she could not enter the camp. She told him, "My husband is in this camp, very sick. I came to nurse and take care of him. If you must shoot me, go ahead. I came to take care of him and am not going back." She turned her horse and rode straight into the camp as though she had the authority of a queen. She located her husband, and took care of him until he was well enough to ride a horse. By this time his Captain gave her permission to take him home until he was able to again join his Company.

Was she really a queen? On two counts, yes. First her grandmother was the daughter of a Cherokee Chief. Second, she was an industrious, resourceful, pleasant, Christian lady. These are the qualifications that rule a republic. Later in our story we will speak more of both royal qualifications.

Besides the two married daughters and the two sons-in-law, Joseph and Mary Ann Harris had a son Jim and three more daughters, Rachel, Ellen and Sarah. All wanted to go to Oregon. The girls also had gruesome memories of the war and how helpless women were at such times. Yes, for instance they recalled the day some Union soldiers came to their home and in an overbearing way informed them that they were hungry and must be served a meal. The girls were angry at the rude soldiers, but had to do as told. They would snicker when they confessed that they did fry a ham dinner from an old weevil infested ham that had hung in their smoke house for months. This was the only way they could give vent to their anger. Yes, the girls wanted to go to Oregon.

WAGON TRAIN DAYS

On May 15, 1865, a long wagon train left Missouri for the far, far away West, as many other wagon trains had gone before. They were going to that glamorous and much talked about land of Oregon. In this train were 100 wagons, well equipped and well armed. They elected Joe Knight captain of the train. Joe Knight was an uncle of Andrew Knight, and of course a great uncle of the baby, "Cousin Bill". (See picture No. 2) (Joe is Joseph D. Knight Capt of the wagon train)

Day after day the Knight Train traveled, as other wagon trains had done before, across the green prairies, where young grass was growing in the spring sun and wild flowers were blooming. Pioneer homes became far between, and then there were no more. There were days of warm sunshine, days of wind and storm, thunder showers, cold nights. The glamour of the trip wore away and it became a day after day task to get up early, gather up the stock and hitch them to the wagons and get an early start on the journey. There were long days of tiresome travel, a camp to make every night, a search for water to supply man and beast. There must be grass for the cattle to graze on each night. Every night the oxen must be unyoked and driven out to pasture and herded until morning. Sometimes there were mishaps, and sometimes camp had to be made where there was no water. Men and animals suffered, but the journey must go on. Life depended upon this, because winter dare not overtake the train before it reached its destination.

Sometimes there were rest days. Or, should we call them rest days? They were days when repairs must be made on wagons, equipment or the trail itself. This was a time to reshoe the tender footed oxen, and it was time for the women folk to wash clothes, if there was enough water.

The journey was becoming routine. Indians had not bothered them, probably because the many wagons bristled with rifles. Then, one day the routine broke. Mary Ann was sitting in the back of their wagon busily churning some cream in a small hand churn. Some cows in the herd of stock were producing extra milk on the green grass.

All of a sudden the wagons were going fast in disorder. They were getting out of line and jostling each other. The cattle hitched to them were stampeding. Something had frightened them. On such an occasion an ox driver has little control of his team. It was a mad, dangerous race on a poor race track. Eventually the horse-back riders managed to get the cattle settled down, but not before considerable damage was done.

When Mary Ann got settled down to inspect the cream in her churn, she found butter. The rough ride had churned her cream. She was concerned about her daughter Rebecca. Would this cause a miscarriage? But time proved not. Rebecca was a strong woman and could take the rough ride.

What had caused the stampede? Dogs were blamed. Captain Knight ordered all dogs in the train killed. This was done. A few days repair work put the train in condition to again travel.

After the train was again on its way Joseph and Mary Ann talked about Rebecca and were thankful that she had withstood the rough ride during the runaway. Rebecca had a special interest to them. Many years earlier a fortune teller had told Joseph that he would soon meet his future wife when she came for water for her family. A short while after this Joseph was hunting in Virginia and stopped at Love Lady Spring to get a drink. There he met a pretty, tall, brunette lady who had come for water. A romance was soon under way, and before long they were married. Like the old Patriarch whose wife was found at the well they had met. This was his Rebecca, but no, she was named Mary Ann. The two solved this problem by naming one of their daughters Rebecca in memory of their unusual place of becoming acquainted.

MORE TROUBLE

The wagon train had gone along for many days in its usual routine until they were in the northeastern part of the territory of Utah. Here their stock again stampeded, causing disaster. Wagons were wrecked and stock and people were injured and crippled. One lady had both legs broken. The train had no doctor, but Captain Knight set the bones, and when the train was again able to move, they built a hammock across the top of the wagon box for her to ride on. She recovered in good shape and lived for many years.

This stampede seemed to have been caused by outlaws whose purpose was to steal cattle. They apparently aimed to lay the blame upon the Indians, and if closely pressed declare they were being persecuted because they were Mormons, with the hope that the Church would believe and protect them.

Riders with the loose cattle were sure that they saw men covered with bear skins frighten the cattle. When apprehended, the suspects claimed that the Indians were the culprits. When the emigrants would not believe this they commenced claiming that they were being persecuted because they were Mormons.

During the Civil War and shortly after, Utah was a far away, isolated land that made a haven for those evading the law. If a fugitive from the law could get to Utah and stay in the good graces of the Mormon Church he was safe. Mormon pioneers had many other problems in taking care of their members to keep them in food and supplies. The Church had no time to run down renegades and sort out the ones that were seeking true religion from those who were hiding from the law of eastern states. They tried to keep order, but could not always tell the honest repentor from the cunning criminal.

The summer was slipping away. It was two weeks before the train could move. Winter might overtake them. There was no time to run down outlaws. Their display of arms produced order, but like astronauts in space with their space ship wrecked, it was a case of life or death to reach their goal by patching up what equipment they had left and turning all efforts into miles toward Oregon.

Much livestock was lost, and the best animal that Joseph Harris could muster to carry one side of the yoke on his wagon was a two year old heifer. By making their loads as light as possible, this little heifer brought her part of the wagon as far as Grande Ronde Valley before snow came. Later when their daughter Rachel married John McKinnis, they gave this animal to the newlyweds for a present. Forty years later the McKinnis family was able to trace the ancestry of their herd of cattle back to "Old Roanie" who had carried the yoke to Oregon.

The long Knight train crippled along out into the Snake River Valley, which emigrants called "The Great American Desert". It was a land of famine, desert dust as fine as flour, sage, lava rocks, cold nights and hot days. Grass was hard to find, water harder. Indians were hostile and plentiful. However they stayed away from the many rifles that the train carried. People on that train were striving for their lives and were in humor to use their rifles on anyone who tried to slow their progress.

On "Dead Ox Flat" in what is now Malheur County, Oregon, Andrew Knight's last ox died. Cows brought his wagon on. The wagons followed the trail up Burnt River as far as Durkee and then went straight North across the hills and entered Grande Ronde Valley by way of Pyles Canyon and Union.

GRANDE RONDE VALLEY

The big valley with its tall grass amid the surrounding timber covered hills looked to the weary travelers like a piece of Heaven shoved out in their path. Their prayers of many weeks were being answered. They had reached a land where men could live. In fact people were already living in this valley; living there and harvesting crops of grain and vegetables and raising livestock. Winter was near at hand. There was no question but that the Grande Ronde Valley was the end of the trail for 1865. They must, and could, winter in this pretty valley.

All had arrived in good health. It seemed that everyone had been working so hard to save their lives that they had no time to become ill. Little Bill had thrived and grown on the long journey. Rebecca was healthy and strong, ready for her baby to be born within a few weeks.

Cousin Bill grew up with a live sense of humor. He had heard relatives tell of the trip across the plains so many times that he knew all of the details. He had a memory like an elephant even up past his one hundredth birthday. Children, and older folks too, liked to listen to his stories.

Sometimes he spiced his stories up with a bit of humor. For example, a hundred years after the wagon train trip he was entertaining a group of young folks with events that took place on the way to Oregon. He said, "I listened to some Mexicans who were with us so much on that trip that I learned to speak the Mexican language."

The children looked at him in amazement as he repeated a few words he had learned. Then one of the older ones said, "Bill, you were not old enough to talk any language when you made that trip."

He replied, "You are not taking into account how smart a boy I was."

As he told me about this occasion, I asked him, "What did they have to say about that?"

He chuckled and said, "They knew I had them pegged." and chuckled some more. In reality, I think he was just leading the kids on to see how soon they would catch the point. He is a great friend of children and likes to show them a good time, but really would not deceive them.

Lamar Cabin Origin Settled by Andy Knight

A. W. Nelson, the roving reporter of the Union-Bulletin had a very interesting story in the Sunday paper of a trip down the Touchet from Waltsburg. Among other things he had the three following paragraphs:

"History differs and relators differ in their version of Lamar's background, but symbol of the past still stands in the form of a double cabin, now hemmed in by the farm buildings. Mrs. Addie Dickson operates the place but ownership rests in Missouri. One version has it that the cabin was built by one Joe Knight who presumably lived there 15 years before selling to the Lamar boys at an undetermined date.

"Another more specific version, and apparently quite accurate, declares a man named George Dudley Goodwin came from Indiana with his wife in 1862 and built the cabin the next year. A few years later he sold to William (not Joe, so the version says) Knight, who died before he received a patent to his land and his wife remained there to get the patent, then sold out, in 1869 to a German named Selheim who sold to the Lamar brothers in 1872. One of the brothers lived there until his death in 1906.

"It is double in character, with an excellently-preserved fireplace at one end of the living quarters which is joined to a workshop by a covered passageway."

That name Knight and a tip from Clark Israel put the Chronicle-Dispatch reporter on the prowl and this is added to the Lamar cabin story.

Andy Knight, for these many years intimately known to all on Main street, was born in that same Lamar cabin in the year 1867. This can be attested by Mrs. Franz Romain who was born a few years previously while her parents were crossing the plains with a wagon train, progress of which was delayed a couple of weeks by her advent into this world. The senior Knights (William P.) settled at what we call Lamar today, and acquired from Gideon Cummings the cabin, origin of which Mr. Nelson could not indisputably settle. The cabin, says Andy, was built by Mr. Cummings a couple of years before the Knights arrived on the scene in 1865.

They are still a number of the Cummings family left in the country. According to Andy, one of Gideon Cummings' daughters, Lizzie, married George McEvoy, a well known locomotive engineer of the O.-W., now retired; another Dan Smith another engineer, working for the N. P.

The senior Mr. Knight died before Andy was long enough in this work to get calouses on his hands. Mrs. Knight, not long after that sold out to partners of the Knights, the Braden boys, and they in turn sold out to the Lamars. The Knights and Bradens ran horses and cattle over a large territory centered at Lamar.

That, we hope, straightens out the kink in the history line of the origin of the Lamar double cabin. If this writer had a little more time and space and inclination, he could tell yet another version of that cabin's history, but which, in the light of Andy's memory was not authentic.

Andy Knight to Partially Retire After 25 Years in Same Building

Andy Knight, 73-year-old Dayton businessman, has partially retired from his work at the Hubbard-Rogg concern, where he has been associated for over a quarter of a century.

His associations with the mortuary chapel there, however, will not be severed, and he will devote a portion of his time to continue his work.

Andy was born 73 years ago near Prescott, where his parents had moved in 1865. The log cabin in which he was born still stands at Lamar on the Touchet river. After a limited elementary schooling in a small country school on the lower Touchet river and at Palouse, he started out on his own. He teamed between Palouse and Colfax; farmed for a time; railroaded out of Sprague and worked as an auditor.

At Wardner, Idaho, he became a licensed embalmer and later located here with the Hubbard-Rogg Furniture company and mortuary, where he has remained the past 25 years working in the same building. His friends will be glad to know that although Andy has decided to retire, he will still continue his associations with the business and be on hand when needed.

Knight-Maynard.

Harl Larkin Knight and Miss Mary Jane Maynard were married at the Congregational manse Sunday noon by Rev. W. C. Gilmore. Mr. and Mrs. Knight have grown up in Columbia county, and are receiving the best wishes of their many friends for a happy and prosperous home life among us.

8 Dec 1909

A. J. Knight, proprietor of the Touchet Valley Poultry Farm has received a pair of thoroughbred white Orphington chickens from New York, costing $26. Mr. Knight has shipped three trios of Ancona birds for which he received $10 per trio. He has gone into the poultry business quite extensively and will raise nothing but the very best breeds.

Discover Gold in Paying Quantity

A. J. Knight Uncovers Seven $20 Gold Pieces on First Street.

Gold discovered in paying quantities on a 60-foot lot in Dayton. There is no doubt about the value, as the gold bears the stamp of Uncle Sam's mint, and there is no doubt about the quantity being sufficient to pay operating expenses, as a few hours' shoveling brought forth seven $20 gold pieces.

The seven $20 gold pieces were retrieved from Mother Earth by Brig Knight, while he was excavating for a basement on the property of his father, A. J. Knight. One of the twenties was unearthed last Friday and on Saturday the young man made an intensive search and secured six more of the shiny pieces. One twenty, if Mr. Knight has the right information, remains yet to be found.

Some years ago, when Mr. Knight bought the property from Mrs. Sam Kiger, he was informed by Mrs. Kiger that her husband, who passed away in 1920, had, a few years previously, drawn $160 from the bank, in $20 gold pieces, and had secreted the money in the earth close to the front of the house. She told Mr. Knight that if he found the money he should return one $20 piece to her and might have the other seven. The money was not found, and a few years later Mrs. Kiger died. Last week, however, when the work of excavating was started, one of the gold pieces showed up, and with a little effort six others were found. The gold pieces, which are almost a curiosity now, since gold is practically out of circulation, show no tarnish and are just as fascinating as were the $20 gold pieces which the early settlers carried in their pockets, when banks were less popular as depositories and gold was more plentiful.

With the one $20 gold piece still unaccounted for, the property is probably a better prospect than most of the mining properties in which people are asked to invest.

Revered Pioneer Died Saturday

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Rogg and Watson for Andy Knight, pioneer resident of Dayton who died Saturday night after several years of failing health.

Andy, son of Walla Walla county pioneers, was born in the well-known Lamar log cabin on the Touchet river below Prescott on February 21, 1867, and was 79 years old. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Knight, came to Lamar in 1865, bringing with them a two-year old daughter, who is now Mrs. Elizabeth Romaine, of Walla Walla. Andy became an orphan at the age of seven when his father died, his mother having died when he was three.

For a time he lived with a family named Bullington on Smith Hollow and attended a small school on the lower Touchet, and at Palouse. He worked as a teamster between Palouse and Colfax, and worked on the railroad out of Sprague, and was for three years county auditor at Colfax. He also learned the undertaking business at Wardner, Idaho.

On December 24, 1891, he was married to Elizabeth Lamb of Colfax. They moved to Dayton in 1904. For more than 30 years he was with the undertaking firm of Hubbard and Rogg, retiring several years ago because of his health.

Survivors, besides his widow and his sister, include two sons, William Myral (Brig) Knight of Dayton, Harl Knight of San Diego, a daughter, Mrs. Velda Pool of Long Beach, Calif., seven grandchildren, and a number of cousins in Walla Walla and the Palouse country.

One grandson, Richard Pool, who lived with Mr. and Mrs. Knight, is now in army training at Fort Bragg, N. C.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge, M.W.A., and Moose lodge.

24 Mar 1955

MRS. A. J. KNIGHT

Lizzie Josephine Lamb was born in The Dalles, Oregon, on November 12, 1870. Her early girlhood was spent in and around The Dalles where her parents were engaged in the then popular life of the pioneer.

When Lizzie was in her early teens the family moved to Colfax where soon afterward she met Andrew J. Knight whom she married on December 24, 1891, in Palouse City. On November 3, 1892, a son, William Myral, was born to the Knights. Four years later another son, Harl Larkin, was born to this couple and on September 19, 1901, their third and last child, Velda Reba, was born.

In 1904, the Knights moved to Dayton where "Andy" went to work for R. D. Sayres and company. A short time afterward he went to work for Hubbard-Rogg where he worked until his death in 1946. Lizzie began sewing and making dresses for many women around town and to this day you can hear about the wedding dresses she used to make.

In 1928 the daughter, Velda, came back to visit her mother, bringing her three sons with her. The youngest, Richard, who was six months old, immediately took to his grandmother and upon her request began a prolonged visit which lasted until the last days of her life. Mr. and Mrs. Knight raised this grandson almost as if he were a son.

Lizzie was an ardent lover of nature in all of its aspects. She devoted her entire life in keeping the lawn and gardens about her house brimming with the beauty of flowers and shrubs. She was admired by everyone for her "green thumb." No one had a more beautiful garden of roses than she. Everything she planted seemed to spring from the ground with vigor to beautify the surroundings she inhabited.

Another aspect of her undying love of beauty and precision was her interest in sewing, crocheting and knitting. Untold numbers of quilts, doilies and other decorative needle work passed through her precision-like fingers. Friends will never forget her dress-making ability and the pride she put into each stitch.

In her early years a handicap that might have changed the entire course of life for anyone but the most strong-willed began working its web of dread into her life. She slowly but surely became deaf. For one who loved the beauty of sound as she did, it was a great loss but she compensated by becoming even more addicted to her sense of beauty in sight.

She became an ambitious member of the Pythian Sisters and Neighbors of Woodcraft. She learned their rituals well through active participation. So well, in fact, that even in her deafness she could notice any error made through lip-reading and sights. In anything with which she became acquainted and interested she was devout to the utmost. Shirking any duty, no matter how trivial, was blasphemy to her and at no time was she guilty of this sin.

One so dynamic in character and judgment could not help but have many ardent friends. Lizzie was no exception as everywhere she went new friends welcomed her graciously. No person who ever met her ever went away from that meeting without a thorough knowledge that they had gained one of the truest of friends. A group of these very same friends got together and formed a sewing circle in which she was a very active member. They never failed to realize that Lizzie, despite her handicap, was a great leader in their group.

The long, useful life came to a peaceful end on March 11, 1955. A beautiful service took place the following Monday from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel with Rev. Fenner of the Congregational church officiating. A portion of the ceremony consisted of her old friends in the Pythian Sisters giving their fraternal rites. Even in death the many beautiful flowers signified the beauty with which she had lived these many years.

Survivors of the deceased include three children: William Myral of Dayton, Harl Larkin of Nevada, and Velda Reba, also of Nevada; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Pioneer Woman Answers Call

MRS. FRANTZ ROMAINE

Mrs. Frantz Romaine, 82, resident of Columbia county more than 50 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ward Ellis, of Walla Walla, Tuesday morning after a long period of failing health. Funeral services will be held from the Rogg & Watson chapel this Thursday afternoon at 2:30, and interment will be made in the family plot in the Dayton cemetery.

Elizabeth Knight, daughter of William Knight and Damie Ward Knight, was born in a covered wagon at the crossing of the Platte in Nebraska, July 1, 1865. The family came on to Lamar that summer and for several years lived in a log cabin that has since become famous as a landmark of pioneer days. Her brother, the late A. J. Knight, was born there. Both her parents died when she was about five years old, and for many years she made her home with an uncle, John Knight. With his family she lived in different parts of Washington and Oregon during her childhood, and she was the first white girl ever to live at Wallula Junction and at Mullan, Idaho. She later came to Columbia county where she attended the Smith Hollow school for a time, and where she first met Frantz Romaine, to whom she was married December 25, 1887.

The Romaines first lived on the ranch which was later the James Gaines place, and at this home their five children were born. In 1909 they purchased another farm on the Patit and at that place they celebrated their golden wedding on Christmas day in 1937. A few years later they moved to Walla Walla where Mr. Romaine died and where Mrs. Romaine has since lived with her daughters.

Mrs. Romaine was a member of the Christian church, the Neighbors of Woodcraft, the Pythian Sisters, the Columbia County Pioneer association, and the Daughters of Pioneers of Washington.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Amy Harris and Mrs. Ward Ellis of Walla Walla; a son, W. C. Romaine of Eugene, Oregon; four grandchildren, Dale Courtney of Pilot Rock, Oregon, and Mrs. Paul Phillips, Dick and Jack Ellis of Walla Walla, and six great-grandchildren. A son, Earl, died in childhood, and a daughter, Mrs. Cecil Courtney, died several years ago.

Ben Knight Dies Monday, Rites Today

Benjamin Franklin (Ben) Knight, 80, long-time resident of Dayton, passed away Monday morning, May 17, at Walla Walla General Hospital of complications following surgery.

For the past three years, since June, 1962, he had made his home at the Odd Fellows Home in Walla Walla.

Funeral service will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today, May 20, from the DeWitt Chapel in Walla Walla. Graveside ritualistic service by Alki Patit Lodge No. 10, IOOF of Dayton, and interment will follow at 3 p.m. at Dayton City Cemetery. Elder Arthur Dahl of the Seventh Day Adventist church will officiate. Music will be provided by the Rev. and Mrs. Francis Klontz of Starbuck.

Mr. Knight was born May 6, 1885, in Elgin, Oregon. He was the son of Robert Knight and Martha Harris Knight.

For over 50 years he made his home near Dayton in the Eckler Mountain district. Before retirement he was employed by the U. S. Forest Service and was engaged in farming. He was a member of Walla Walla General Hospital Adventist church, Alki Patit Lodge No. 10, IOOF, of Dayton and several farming organizations.

Mr. Knight was not married.

Members of the family include two brothers, W. J. Knight of Lyle and Martin Knight of Spring Valley, Calif.; a nephew, Don Knight of Dayton; and two nieces, Mrs. Elmer DeRuwe of Dayton and Mrs. Kenneth Brodhead of Huntsville.

FOR SHERIFF.

The republicans of this county present for your consideration the name of Conrad Knobloch, and a better choice could not have been made. Mr. Knobloch was born in McGinney county, Pennsylvania. He lived on the old home place until 17 years of age, when he entered the army at the call of Abraham Lincoln. He served three years and six weeks in a Pennsylvania regiment. There were 90 men in his company and out of this number 14 men lived to return to their homes, and six out of the 14 were in the Andersonville prison. Mr. Knobloch left Pennsylvania in 1866, crossing the plains by bull team to Julesburg, Col. He subsequently made several trips with bull and mule teams, hauling freight across the plains. He spent eighteen months in Kansas near Junction City, then went to Wyoming where he lived two years as a freighter. He next went to Montana and farmed for 14 months near Bozeman. Came to Walla Walla in 1870 where he lived until 1873, when he came to Columbia county settling on the farm which he now owns. In 1874 he was married to Miss Sarah Savage. Mr. Knobloch has always been a hard working man, who has managed his own affairs successfully. If elected to the office he will not put the county to any unnecessary expense. He is a man of good habits, in whom all have the utmost confidence. If you want to elect a worthy citizen to the office of sheriff, a man capable in every respect to fill the office, Conrad Knobloch is the man.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES OF HEART FAILURE

Neighbor Finds Lifeless Body of Mrs. S. A. Knobloch.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Knobloch, well known Dayton pioneer, who passed away sometime during last Thursday night at her home on Mustard street, was held Sunday afternoon from the residence on Mustard street, and was attended by a large circle of friends. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. C. Gilmore, pastor of the Congregational church, of which Mrs. Knobloch had been a member for many years. She was also a member of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Knobloch, who was 75 years of age, was found dead in her bed Friday morning by Mrs. B. L. Dickinson, a neighbor, who called at her home. So far as is known she had been in her usual good health and death is thought to have been caused from heart trouble. It is supposed that she passed away while sleeping.

Mrs. Knobloch was the widow of the late Conrad Knobloch, who served as sheriff of Columbia county for a number of years. The husband died several years ago and since that time Mrs. Knobloch had lived alone much of the time.

The family came to Columbia county about 35 years ago and lived for many years in Johnson hollow, where Mr. Knobloch was engaged in farming.

Mrs. Knobloch is survived by several brothers and sisters and by one nephew, Ollie Sherry, who for many years made his home with the Knobloch family.

26 June 1912

Conrad Knobloch.

Residents of Columbia county will learn with sadness of the death of our respected citizen, Conrad Knobloch, who passed away at his home Wednesday evening, just as the clock struck six. Mr. Knobloch has been failing gradually for some time, but no one excepting his physician and the members of his family knew of his serious condition until very recently.

The funeral was held from the family residence yesterday afternoon at 3:30 and was attended by hundreds of friends.

Rev. W. C. Gilmore officiated at the residence. Members of A. Sully Post, G. A. R. conducted the services at the cemetery.

Conrad Knobloch was born in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, November 22nd, 1843. At seventeen he heard the call of Abraham Lincoln for volunteers and enlisted in a Pennsylvania regiment and served three years. Out of his company of ninety men, fourteen returned home. In 1866 he left Pennsylvania going to Kansas and Wyoming. He arrived in Walla Walla in 1870 and came to Columbia county in 1873, and settled on a farm on the Whetstone. In 1874 he was married to Sarah Savage, who survives him. He was elected Sheriff in 1894 and served two terms and in 1902 he served the county as a representative in the State Legislature. He was a member of Alfred Sully Post, G. A. R., of Dayton. Conrad Knobloch had no child, but he and his wife took his motherless nephew, Ollie Sherry when he was ten days old and raised him as their son. Conn, as he was affectionately called by a host of friends, was a good friend, a good neighbor and a good citizen. His death is a loss to the community.

Oliver Sherry Funeral Today

Self-Inflicted Death Shock to Many Here

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Oliver Sherry, life-long resident of this community, at Milton Tuesday morning. He died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound at a trailer house at Milton where he had been making his home since his marriage to Nellie Ridgley Bloomer, August 15 of this year. The couple had purchased a refreshment stand, "The Coffee Cup" and they were planning to make Milton their permanent home. The first that neighbors knew of the impending tragedy was when Mrs. Sherry screamed as her husband attempted his life.

Funeral services will be held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel of this city Thursday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. Thomas McCamant of the Congregational church in charge, and interment will be made in the family plot in the Dayton cemetery.

Oliver Sherry was born in Dayton September 22, 1877. His mother died when he was but four days old, and he was adopted by an aunt, the late Mrs. Conrad Knobloch, who reared him in her home. He enlisted with Co. F., First Regiment of Washington Volunteers April 25, 1898 for service in the Spanish-American war, and received his honorable discharge at Angel Island August 15, 1898. He was married at Asotin in 1903 to Iva M. Knight who died in 1913. He continued to live in this county until after his recent marriage, and for a long period was employed at Starbuck.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Nellie Sherry, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Beckman, Clarkston, three grandchildren, a half sister, Mrs. Ethel McDonald, and a half brother, Harry Sherry, both of Chelan.
