

OLIVER P. WILSON, a prominent and progressive grain and stock raiser of Columbia county, is worthy of mention in a work like this, as, though comparatively young, he has in a very brief time clearly identified himself with the best interests of the county, and ranks among her most respectable citizens.

He dates his birth in Brown county, Illinois, June 1, 1855, the youngest of the nine children of Wadsworth and Elizabeth (Shanton) Wilson. His father, a native of Maryland, emigrated from that State to Illinois as early as 1839, and his death occurred in 1872. Our subject's mother is by birth an Ohioan, and now resides in the State of Missouri.

Traveling and changing residence as he has, Mr. Wilson has learned a great deal of the world and had a variety of experiences. He began life on his own responsibility at the age of eighteen years, spent several years in various sections of Iowa, moved to Missouri in 1884, and resided there until he came to Washington, in 1891. His residence is about eight miles northwest of the city of Dayton, where he holds a long lease on 740 acres of land, the property of H. J. Torrance, and he cultivates some 540 acres, devoted to grain and stock-raising. His horses are thoroughbred Norman, and his cattle are all graded stock. On the farm is a splendid orchard of about ten acres, one acre of which is in grapes and other small fruit. The systematic management of the farm and its belongings evinces the good economy and good taste of the present occupant.

Mr. Wilson is yet unmarried. In politics he is allied with the "grand old party," and fraternally he affiliates with the I. O. O. F. of Missouri.

Pg 601

THOMAS F. WILSON, a prominent stockman and farmer of Columbia county, resides three miles southeast of Covello and was born in Sanilac county, Michigan, on April 7, 1865. His father, William Wilson, was born in England. Until 1888 our subject remained in Michigan gaining his education and a double training from his stepfather in stock raising and farming. In the year last mentioned, he came to North Dakota and remained seven months, then journeyed on to Wallowa county, Oregon. There he remained until 1897 when he came to his present location. He has traveled quite extensively throughout the west, especially in Washington and Oregon, and is convinced that Columbia county is one of the best portions for stock and farming. He has nearly one section of fertile grain land, which is well improved and in a high state of cultivation. He devotes considerable attention to raising both cattle and horses and is one of the prosperous men of the country, being an exceptionally successful horse man.

In 1890, Mr. Wilson married Miss Nora Corkrum, a native of Walla Walla. To them two children have been born, Frank, aged twelve, and June, aged nine. Mr. Wilson has two sisters, Mrs. Dave Hutchinson and Mrs. Stephens, both residing in Michigan.

In political matters, we find Mr. Wilson active and well informed. He is a constant reader and keeps himself well posted, especially in the lines he is pursuing. His standing in the community is of the best and the success he has achieved marks him as a man of ability.

Almira A. Teel

Almira A. Teel #TE-W6-1-3-7-8-10-5 was born 30 April 1846 at Algonquin, McHenry, Illinois, the daughter of Joseph Teel and his wife Mary Stetson Alexander. She married John B. Wilson on 9 September 1869 at the Teel family home in Walla Walla, Washington Territory. John B. Wilson was born 10 December 1845 at Pleasant, Monroe, Ohio, the son of Jeremiah Wilson who was born in Virginia, and his wife Eliza Sproat who was born in Ohio.

John B. Wilson came from Ohio with his parents at the age of twenty in 1865 and settled in Umatilla County, Oregon. After his marriage to Almira, they settled at Covello near Dayton, Columbia, Washington Territory at the head of Whetstone (later known as Wilson Hollow, named after John B. Wilson) where they lived for 26 years in the Whiskey Creek area.

John Wilson died from heart disease at the family home on 9 July 1905 at the age of 59, 7 months.

Almira A. (Teel) Wilson died 2 April 1922 in Dayton, Washington. Both Almira and her husband, John, are buried at the Turner Cemetery near Dayton, Washington. Also buried here are their children Adelia and Francis Wilson, and John's parents Jeremiah and Eliza (Sproat) Wilson, John's brother George M. Wilson, and a sister Caroline (Wilson) Tharp and three Tharp children.

John and Almira Wilson had 4 children but only 2 lived to maturity. Both married and lived at Dayton, Washington.

Almira A. Teel helped at the birth of Cora Maggie (Teel) Beiler, the mother of the compiler of this book, on 5 February 1880 at Turner, Washington Territory.

#TE-W7-1-3-7-8-10-6-1 CORA MAGGIE TEEL

Cora Maggie Teel #TE-W7-1-3-7-8-10-6-1 was born 5 February 1889 at Turner, Columbia County, Washington Territory, the daughter of Henry Wadsworth Teel and his wife Margaret Jane Humphreys. After leaving Turner the family lived about a year with Cora's grandparents, Owen and Jane (Jones) Humphreys at Pataha City, Garfield County, Washington Territory. The family moved to Davenport, Lincoln County, Washington Territory when Cora was six years old, in 1886. Cora remembered that big move all of her life and often talked about it.

Cora started first grade in Davenport and attended the Larene school north of Davenport after the family moved to the farm in the Larene area. Larene was a small country community with a store and post-office and later the Larene Church in the town center.

Cora attended Davenport High School, batching with her brother Alfred in town. Cora's favorite subject was bookkeeping. She passed the teacher's exam but decided not to teach and took a tailoring apprentice course. She also worked in homes of friends and neighbors when needed. She especially loved picking berries for Mr. and Mrs. Frarr in her teen years. This meant getting up before dawn and walking to the Frarr farm to start picking berries at daylight so that Mr. Frarr could take them to the stores in Davenport seven miles south. Cora took pleasure in picking berries all the rest of her life because of that experience.

admitted to the superior Court in May 1899 and practiced law at Pomeroy, Washington. On April 1903 he moved to Asotin and practiced law. In 1906 he was the attorney of Asotin County, Washington.

Luella Mae died 13 May 1962 and George Rumens died 5 October 1963, both in Seattle, Washington and both are buried in the Acacia Mausoleum.

#TE-W7-1-3-7-8-10-5-2 ALICE AUGUSTA J. WILSON

Alice Augusta J. Wilson #TE-W7-1-3-7-8-10-5-2 was born 11 May 1873 at Turner, Washington Territory, the daughter of John B. Wilson and his wife Almira A. Teel. She was commonly known as Augusta.

Alice Augusta J. Wilson married J. Frank Porter on 11 July 1897. Frank was born 9 April 1859 in Ohio, the son of Sam Porter and his wife Susan.

Augusta lived her whole life in Columbia County and much of the time was spent farming with her husband near Dayton, Washington until his death when she moved into Dayton. Frank died 10 March 1934 and Augusta died 23 October 1956. Both are buried in the Dayton Cemetery.

There were no children.

#TE-W7-1-3-7-8-10-5-3 ESSA HARRIETT WILSON

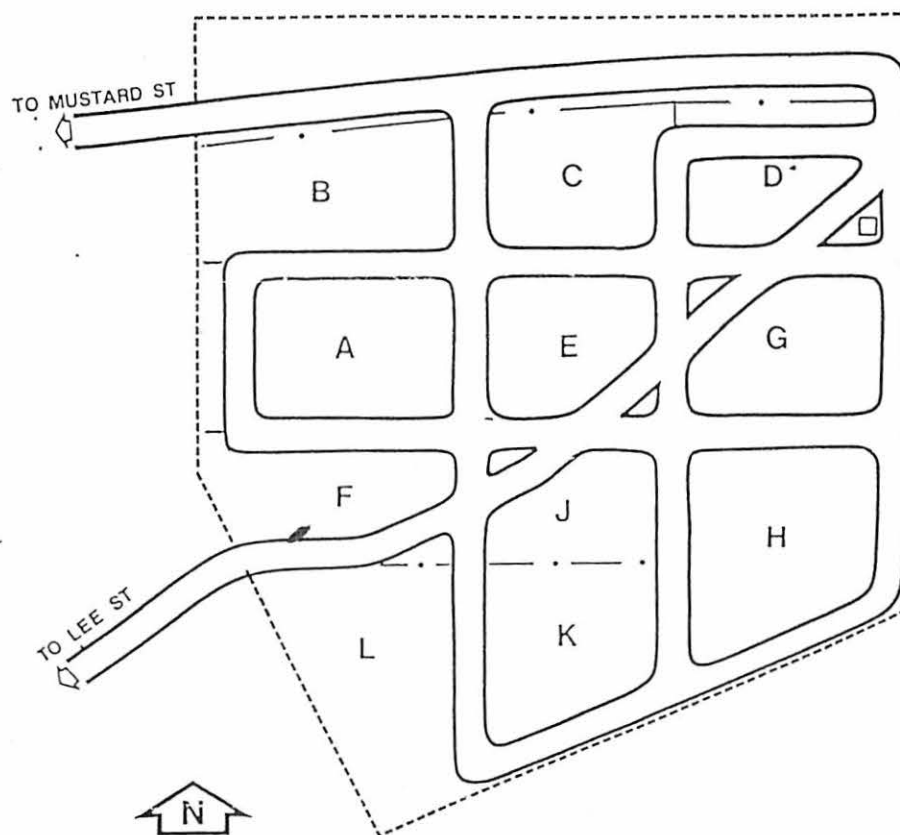

Essa Harriett Wilson #TE-W7-1-3-7-8-10-5-3 was born 7 January 1879 at Turner, near Dayton, Columbia County, Washington Territory, the daughter of John B. Wilson and his wife Almira A. Teel.

Essa married Robert Andrew Culbertson on 26 October 1904 at Dayton, Washington. Robert was born 11 April 1879 at Kirksville, Adair County, Missouri, the son of Joseph Culbertson who moved to Columbia County, Washington Territory in 1883.

Robert and Essa Culbertson farmed in the Hogeys district and on the Robinette Mountain area in Washington before returning about 1945 and moving to Dayton, Washington.

Robert Andrew Culbertson died 10 October 1955 in Dayton.

Essa was a civic-minded citizen of Dayton. Soon after her husband died, she endowed the local school district of Dayton with $50,000 which was used to establish the special education program in the Dayton school. The district receives the income from the Essa Culbertson Trust Fund. She also willed to the Spokane and Eastern Branch of the Seattle-First National Bank her property in trust for several charitable purposes. This trust is called the "Culbertson Fund". Part was used to beautify the Dayton Cemetery which is owned by the City of Dayton and for its perpetual upkeep.

*The Dayton Cemetery is located on a hill in the southeast corner of the city.
Go out Fourth Street to Mustard Street and turn left.
Go four blocks. You can see the cemetery gates from the end of the third block.*

Essa provided about $80,000 to purchase property containing a house which she enlarged to provide a nursing home. This was in partnership with Frances Hudson. Essa was to be able to live there the balance of her life without cost. Essa did live there but toward the end Mrs. Hudson hired nurses to take care of her in the Hudson home.

Essa was a remarkable woman, well-liked and had definite and strong opinions as to what she wanted to do for her community of Dayton.

Essa Harriet Wilson Culbertson died 3 October 1965 in Dayton, Washington. Both Robert and Essa and their two children are buried in the Dayton Cemetery. One daughter was mentally disadvantaged and one had poor health.

THE WAY WE WERE

A new fence installed some weeks ago has caused a revival of interest in the Union cemetery near Turner. Added to the new fence was an iron gate subscribed by members of pioneer families and a marker inscribed with the name of the cemetery. The land for the cemetery was the gift of Berry Evans, says Mrs. R. A. Culbertson, one of the pioneers of the neighborhood.

The Union cemetery association incorporated in 1883, but Mrs. Culbertson says that old-timers have told her that the first burial there was ten years before. The incorporators, as Mrs. Culbertson remembers them, were J. T. Gordon, J. W. Stevens, F. N. Winder, L. M. Vannice, A. C. McCall, C. S. Wright and William Hazen. Mrs. Culbertson says there are a number of descendents of these people still in the community.

Twelve miles from Dayton, where there was no cemetery in 1873, says Mrs. Culbertson, a man from the Idaho mines started—or caused to be started—the Union cemetery. It was an unusually hard winter, and the man, who was working in the neighborhood for his board, one day suddenly died. He was buried by the neighbors, who had concluded there should be a cemetery there.

Some time after this, Grandpa and Grandma Jeremiah Wilson passed away and were buried there, Mrs. Culbertson recalls. Then came the awful diphtheria epidemic. One family lost as many as six children in two weeks, and others lost all they had. These sad people buried their dead in home-made boxes. Some of the caskets and their burden were horseback, others any way they could be gotten there.

The Union cemetery, one of the first in the country, says Mrs. Culbertson, has in its soil the tragedies and heartaches, the sorrow and even the fears of the heroic pioneers who settled that portion of Columbia County.

Through research, it is my belief General M. Ham in 1830-40 re-named Sissies husband to Wilson (maybe Norlett Wilson) on the Trail of Tears (1830) traveling from Mississippi to Oklahoma to be placed on the Broken Bow Reservation. Thousands died on that trail. I believe he was one of those that died. Need to do more research.

Prayer & Obituary

Nancy L. Easttum was born June 7-1877 near Foke, Ark. and departed this life Mar2-1952 at Prescott, Ariz. at the home of her daughter Lessie Easttum.

On June 16- 1895 she was united in marriage to Charles Easttum. To this union were born - one son and five daughters - four of which are living. They are Dora Wilson, B.H. Easttum - Lovie Marks all of Payton, Wash. and Lessie Easttum of Prescott. All were with her during her last illness.

At the age of 18 she was converted and remained a faithful Christian until her death. She was a member of the First Church of God, Prescott, Ariz.

She leaves to mourn their loss - 4 children , 20 grand children and 19 great grand children and a host of friends and neighbors who will miss her greatly.

End of Obituary

The image shows an open antique book, likely a family register or a church record book. The left page is a "HOLY MATRIMONY" certificate. It features a large, ornate title "Nancy Eastburn" at the top, followed by "Charles E. Eastburn" and "Nancy E. Widener". The text "THIS IS TO CERTIFY" is printed above the names. Below the names, the date "June 18th 1895" is written. The names "Charles E. Eastburn" and "Nancy E. Widener" are written in cursive. At the bottom, there is a small illustration of a church. The right page is a "Family Register". It has a section for "GRANDPARENTS" with names "Charles E. Eastburn" and "Nancy E. Widener" and dates "June 18th 1895" and "June 19th 1895". Below this is a section for "PARENTS" with names "Charles E. Eastburn" and "Nancy E. Eastburn" and dates "April 22nd 1895" and "April 27th 1895". The book has a dark cover and a small illustration of a church on the left page.

For years I heard about Grandma Easttums Bible. It could tell us everything about their lives and our Ancestors. We all hoped it would lead us to knowledge about the possibility of having Cherokee blood in our family. Grandma Dora Wilson said she thought she had Cherokee in her. My brother Frank, niece Katrina went with me to see Uncle Bob Wilson in Kennewick, Washington. We all loaded up in Uncle Bob's van and went over to see our cousin, Ray Ford and his wife. Ray pulled out a box; he said he hadn't even looked in it since his mother died, my Great Aunt Louie. We found some treasures. We found letters; gas coupons from World War 2 and our Grandmothers Bible. Just behind the New Testament we found the Family Register with all her children listed. Including the date and location of where she and Grandpa Charley Easttum were married. Ray let us take them to a local copier store and they helped me make copies. When we got back, Ray, Ford and Uncle Bob were playing guitars and Frank was just smiling. They said it was like the good old days. (Included with this is a computer disk of the pages that were copied.)

Death of Mrs. Tharp.

Mrs. Caroline Tharp, aged 82 years, died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. C. Brill, of Turner. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. A. Callender, of the M. E. Church of this city, at the Turner church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Tharp was a pioneer of this country, having crossed the plains in 1865, and had long been a resident of this county. She is survived by a son and daughter, J. W. Tharp, and Mrs. M. C. Brill, of Turner, and a sister, who also lives at Turner.

15 July 1905

Morris Wilson, of Walla Walla, was in the city Monday to attend the funeral of his brother, J. B. Wilson.

J. W. Hubbard departed for Seattle and Portland, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kirby, of Walla Walla, attended the funeral of J. B. Wilson, Monday.

15 July 1905

OBITUARY.

John B. Wilson died at the family residence, one mile from town, Sunday, July 9, 1905, at the age of 59 years and 7 months, of heart disease. He was borne in Monroe county, Iowa, Dec. 10, 1845, from which place he emigrated at the age of 20, in 1865, with his parents to Umatilla county, Oregon. There he married Miss Almira Teel, Sept. 9, 1869. They settled at the head of Whetstone, Columbia county, where they lived for 26 years. He leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. Augusta Porter and Mrs. Essa Culbertson; three sisters, Mrs. Caroline Thorp, of Turner, Mrs. Maria Gannyaw, of Medford, Ore., Mrs. Janie Giberson, of Tacoma, and one brother, G. Morris Wilson, of W.W. to mourn his loss. He was a kind indulgent husband and father, an honest and industrious man, who made hundreds of friends.

The funeral services were held at the family residence, Rev. Pine officiating. The remains were laid to rest at the Turner cemetery, by the side of two children and his parents, the interment being witnessed by a large gathering of sorrowing friends.

FORMER TURNER MERCHANT DIES

Mrs. Jane Giberson, 81, died in the Odd Fellows' home in Walla Walla shortly after 12 o'clock Wednesday night. She had been ill for two or three weeks.

Funeral services were conducted in Walla Walla Thursday afternoon by Rev. Clay E. Palmer of the First Congregational church. The body was taken to Spokane for cremation. Interment was made in the M. C. Brill lot in the Dayton cemetery.

WELL-KNOWN HERE

Mrs. Giberson was well known to Columbia county residents as for many years she owned and operated a grocery store in Turner. She was forced to give up the store and go to the I. O. O. F. home in 1927 because of failing eyesight.

To her friends and acquaintances Mrs. Giberson was known as a remarkable woman of unusual personal attributes.

Totally blind for about 10 years, she possessed a keenly alert mind. Her grasp of current events frequently was more sure than that of her younger companions who were able to read, according to fellow residents of the home.

A member of the Congregational church, she was given the use of a radio by the Walla Walla congregation and followed the day by day progress of world events. She mastered Braille after the age of 70. Until her final illness, she cared for her own room at the home and looked after her own needs, Mrs. Inez McManigal, superintendent states.

BORN IN IOWA

Mrs. Giberson was a native of Iowa, having been born January 31, 1857. She joined the Rebekah order in 1903 and retained her membership in Eureka lodge No. 1 of Tacoma.

Her only surviving relatives include three nieces, Mrs. Essie Culbertson and Mrs. Frank Porter of this city, Mrs. Frankie Draper of Omak and a nephew, J. W. Tharp, of Seattle.

8 Feb 1908

G. M. Wilson Dies.

G. M. Wilson, formerly a resident of Columbia county and well known in this section of the country, died at his home in Walla Walla Saturday night.

The remains were shipped to Dayton Sunday and were taken to Turner for burial.

Besides a wife, Mrs. Joan Wilson, of Colton, deceased is survived by four sons. They are Lewis Cass Wilson of Idaho, Byron Wilson of Walla Walla, Robert of Seattle and Leon of Colton, Wash. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Thorp, of Turner, and Mrs. James Giberson, of Selah, Wash. Mrs. Frank Porter and Mrs. Robert Culbertson are nieces of the deceased.

DIANE WILSON

Aug 8, 1981

Diane Marie Wilson, 23, of 1418 Walla Walla Ave. died Saturday on Lower Waitsburg Road of injuries sustained in a traffic accident.

Funeral services were held 10 a.m. Thursday at Dayton United Methodist Church. Rev. Tom Lenhart officiated. Burial was in Dayton City Cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was born Nov. 9, 1957, in Litchfield, Minn., to Gordon and Betty Jean Himle Strand. She attended elementary school in Cokoto, Minn., and came to Dayton in 1967 at age 9. She attended Dayton schools and graduated from Dayton High School.

She married Mike Wilson in Dayton, and the couple moved to Walla Walla. She had been employed at Safeway for four years. She was a member of the United Methodist Church in Dayton.

Mrs. Wilson is survived by her husband and a son, Kyle Duane Wilson, both of Walla Walla; a sister, Julie Strand of Clarkston; two brothers, Scott Strand of Lewiston and Duane Strand of Dayton; a half brother, Devin Blue of Clarkston; her father of Dayton; her mother, Mrs. Blue of Clarkston; and her grandparents, the Seymour Himles of Montevideo, Minn.

Don Wilson

Don Wilson, 74, died June 12, 1998, in Post Falls, Idaho.

Don was born May 21, 1924, in Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin. He was the son of Clarence Wilson and Grace Wooley of Wisconsin.

Don was raised in Wisconsin, served in the Navy in WWII, and resided in the Dayton area after WWII. He moved to the Kellogg area in 1947, where he worked at Bunker Hill for over 30 years, finally settling in Post Falls in 1955.

Don was a supervisor for the Mining Industry. He enjoyed fishing, hunting, camping and 4-wheeling.

He is survived by his wife Betty (Elkins) Wilson at home, son and daughter-in-law Boyd and Carol Wilson, Post Falls Id.; daughter and son-in-law, Monta and Lynn Oliver, Spirit Lake, Id.; sister Bernadine and Walter Hughes, Spokane, Wa.; several grandchildren and great grandchildren as well as numerous nieces and nephews.
