JAMES P. WATSON.

Among the valued citizens of Garfield county who have been called to their final rest was numbered James P. Watson, who lived on section 33, township 13 north, range 43 east, and was closely associated with the agricultural development and improvement of this section of the state. He was born in England on the 31st of December, 1854, and was a son of Porter and Susan (Talbot) Watson, both of whom were natives of England, where they spent their entire lives. James P. Watson was educated in the public schools of his native country and in 1871, when a youth of seventeen years, bade adieu to friends and country in order to come to the United States. He first made his way to Kansas, where he remained for four years, and in 1875 he came west to the Pacific coast country. He did not at once make a final settlement, however, but cast around for a desirable location and in the meantime worked for wages, thus becoming a factor in the business life of the community.

In 1877 Mr. Watson took up his abode in what is now Garfield county and the following spring filed on a homestead, which he continued to own throughout his remaining days and on which his widow still lives. He was a man of energy and was ambitious to succeed. Indolence and idleness were utterly foreign to his nature. Every hour was utilized to the best advantage and as the years passed he prospered, so that from time to time he was able to add to his homestead by additional purchase until prior to his death he had become the owner of about a thousand acres of valuable pasture and wheat land in Garfield county. Mr. Watson had come to this country as a youth without money and without friends, but he employed every moment of his time to good advantage, realizing the eternal principle that industry wins. He also carefully saved his earnings and invested the money thus gained wisely and well, so that in the course of years he acquired a snug little fortune. Moreover, he was a broad reader and deep thinker and became well informed on public affairs. When he crossed the Atlantic it was to become an American citizen, not to remain a subject of Great Britain, although he never lost his love for his native land. He ever felt that his allegiance should be given to the land of his adoption, under whose laws he lived and found protection, and he ever stood for those plans and measures which sought to upbuild the community in which he resided, to advance the welfare of the commonwealth and of the country.

In 1880 Mr. Watson was united in marriage to Miss Emma I. Perkins, a native of Oregon and a daughter of John N. Perkins, who was a physician and philanthropist. Her father was a native of Ohio and crossed the plains in 1851, settling in Oregon. In 1878 he came to what is now Garfield county, establishing his home on the present site of Pomeroy. His grandfather, Thomas Perkins, was a soldier of the Revolutionary war. The mother of Mrs. Watson bore the maiden name of Derisa A. Matsler and was a native of Ohio, where her marriage to Mr. Perkins occurred. She afterward made the journey across the plains with her husband to the northwest. She had three brothers—George, David and John, who served throughout the Civil war in defense of the Union. To Mr. and Mrs. Watson were born thirteen children, of whom two died in infancy, and Inez D., who married J. C. Kimble died leaving two sons, Vergel L. and Cecyl L. Those still living are as follows: Charles E., Alva N., Elsie I., James A., William C., Edna E., John P., Joseph F., Iva N. and Alma M. Most of the children are married and with their families they are all residing in Garfield county, with the exception of James A., who is now a resident of Whitman county. Mrs. Watson now has seventeen grandchildren. She is a woman of pronounced ability who has capably managed her property interests since the death of her husband, which occurred on the 5th of September, 1915.

Mr. Watson was a man of sterling character, was a devoted husband and kind and loving father. He was also an obliging and charitable neighbor and his many sterling traits of character gained for him the esteem and confidence come to him is but the just reward of his own industry, fair dealing and good management, for he is a man of good business and executive ability and sound judgment.

JAMES P. WATSON has spent over twenty-five years in Garfield county and owing to his care and industry, although he landed here with no means he is now one of the wealthy men of the section and has won the best of standing from all who know him while he has been engaged industriously in making a fortune that he now possesses. This shows conclusively that Mr. Watson has had a care for the better part of life and has not been subject to the sordidness of mere money-making. He was born in England on December 31, 1855, the son of Porter and Susan (Talbot) Watson, natives of England. James P. was educated in the schools of the native land and in 1871 came thence to America. He soon settled in Kansas and there studied some, after which he took land and later sold it, and in 1875 came to the west. He cast about for some time and in 1877 came to what is now Garfield county. He soon selected a place and in 1878 filed on the land where he now dwells. He has added by purchase since until his estate is nearly one thousand acres. It is admirably adapted for general farming and stock raising, and Mr. Watson is a man of sufficient skill to have made the most of it. He has an ideal home, one of the choicest in this whole county, and his taste and thrift are evident in every detail of the pleasant and valuable place. He has a mind well stored with knowledge, being a close and careful observer and an extensive reader. He has surrounded himself with those things which are edifying and uplifting, being assured that the beautiful plays a large part in making things enjoyable to a mortal.

In 1880 Mr. Watson married Miss Emma I. Perkins, a native of Oregon. Her father, John N. Perkins, was a physician and a philanthropist, his calling being admirably adapted for that gracious work. He was born in Ohio, crossed the plains in 1851, and located in Oregon. In 1878 he came to the vicinity of Pomeroy, or where Pomeroy is now located. His grandfather, Thomas Perkins, was a veteran of the Revolution. Mrs. Watson's mother was Derisa A. Matsler before her marriage. She was born in Ohio, and accompanied her husband across the plains and was a great help to him in his profession and charity work. She had three brothers, George, David and John, in the Civil War. To Mr. and Mrs. Watson ten children have been born, named below: Charles E., Alva N., Inez D., Elsie I., James A., William C., Edna E., John P., Joseph F. and Iva N.

Mr. Watson is looked up to in the county as a man of wisdom and integrity, and the fact that he has won financial success demonstrates his ability, while his raising a choice family and so conducting his ways that he has a reputation unsullied and clean, shows his integrity and worth. His children are all following the steps of their parents, and are worthy members of society.

ROBERT WATSON, a progressive agriculturist of Klickitat county, Washington, was born in the Dominion of Canada, near Woodstock, Ontario, October 30, 1845. His parents, James and Mary Watson, were natives of the Emerald Isle, and his father was a farmer by occupation. He passed his boyhood and youth in the place of his birth, but in 1868 determined to see more of the world, and, attracted by the reports of the fortunes that were so frequently found in a day in the Golden State, he started for California, shipping from New York on the steamer Colorado. He went via Panama, arriving in San Francisco on the Golden Age, May 1, 1868. From that city he went to Napa county, and engaged in farming in the employ of H. H. Hudemann. He spent ten years in Napa county, and then came to the Willamette valley in Oregon, where he bought a place twelve miles east of Salem; he returned to California, but soon afterward came to Washington, and purchased 160 acres, on which he now resides, nine miles from Goldendale. He also purchased of the Northern Pacific railroad company 240 acres, located eight miles east of his residence farm. He has made many good improvements and the place is well stocked with excellent grades of stock. He has also bought from the Government 160 acres on the hill-side adjoining his place.

Mr. Watson was married April 15, 1873, in Canada, to Miss Anna Ferguson, who was born near Woodstock, Ontario, a daughter of Robert Ferguson. Six children have been born of this union: Elmer, Angus, Maude, Ida, Callie and Fred.

Mr. Watson is a member of Alumnus Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Goldendale. He takes an active interest in the welfare of the community which he has helped to develop, and has put forth great efforts to elevate the educational standard of the county. For nine years he has served as Director of school district No. 6, and has been very faithful in the discharge of his duties.

MR. AND MRS. ALEXANDER WATSON, JR.

ALEXANDER WATSON, JR., is to be classed as one of the wealthy land owners in Adams county. By his thrift and wisdom he has gained possession of a nice estate and through his labors, has assisted very materially in building up Adams county to its present prosperous condition.

Alexander Watson, Jr., was born in Ontario, Canada, on August 19, 1855. His parents, Alexander and Catherine (Baird) Watson, were natives of Scotland and are mentioned more fully in this work elsewhere. They moved from Canada to Illinois then to Nebraska and in 1888, to Washington, locating in Adams county where they now reside. Our subject received his education in Ontario and Illinois and remained with his parents until twenty-three years of age, then he worked out for wages one year, after which he married, and five years later moved to Nebraska and farmed for three years. In 1888, he came west and sought out a homestead in Adams county where he now resides, the same being one mile south from Delight. To this he has added by purchase until he has nine hundred and sixty acres, six hundred and fifty of which are producing wheat. He has erected good buildings and made other improvements among which may be mentioned an orchard, choice buildings and fences. In addition to general farming, Mr. Watson also raises some stock.

On December 4, 1879, occurred the marriage of Mr. Watson and Margaret Culbert. Her parents, Thomas and Elizabeth (McClanegan) Culbert, were natives of Ireland and came to America when young. They first located in Pennsylvania and later removed to Illinois where the father remained until his death. The mother still lives there. They were the parents of eight children, named as follows: Alex, Eliza, Mary J., Maggie, Bell, John, Ellen and Levina. To Mr. and Mrs. Watson, five children have been born, Ralph C., A. T., Girtie, Mary and Gladis.

The principles of the Republican party have appealed more strongly to Mr. Watson than any other, consequently he is numbered with the stalwart war horses of this section. He has taken a keen interest in educational matters and has given of his time to serve on the board. He and his wife are members of the Methodist church and are people of excellent standing in the community.

Pg. 223-224

FRED L. WATSON is owner and manager of the Creston roller mills. This is one of the important industries of Lincoln county and has been built by the subject of this article. The plant is fitted with all the latest improved milling machinery and has an output capacity of four hundred barrels per day. Mr. Watson is a practical business man and has demonstrated his ability to handle large industries, being possessed of the happy faculty which enables him to grasp the outlines of business yet allows no details to escape his notice.

Fred L. Watson was born in Michigan, on March 5, 1862, the son of J. B. and Kate (Fryant) Watson, natives of New York. The father was a prominent and influential citizen in Michigan and held various offices of trust. Our subject received his education at Valparaiso, Indiana, there gaining the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1885. After finishing his college course he went to the farm in Michigan and turned his attention to the cultivation of the soil until 1892, when he came to Washington. He soon located at Creston and commenced buying wheat. In this business he prospered until 1892, when he erected the mill spoken of above and continued in buying wheat and handled the milling business also.

Mr. Watson is one of the well known business men of Lincoln county and has established for himself a very enviable reputation.

In 1895, Mr. Watson married Miss Anna, daughter of August Lillengreen, a native of Minnesota. To this union one child, Beatrice, was born in 1899.

Pg 221-222

ROBERT L. WATSON has shown by his well directed and industrious labors in Adams county that he is a man possessed of ability and thrift sufficient to win an excellent success here. He resides about two miles northwest from Delight, where he owns a choice estate of wheat land.

Robert L. was born in Iroquois, Illinois, on November 30, 1871. His parents, Alex and Catherine (Baird) Watson, were natives of Scotland and came to America when children. They settled in Canada, later crossing the line into the States and in 1867, located in Illinois. In 1880, they went west to Nebraska and eight years later came on to Washington. They located where they now live in Adams county and are well known and substantial people. They are the parents of nine children, named as follows: James, Elizabeth, Alexander, William, David, Catherine, Andrew, Mary and Robert. Our subject received his education in Illinois, Nebraska and Adams county. Making the best of his opportunities, he studied in the public schools in these various places. He continued with his father until twenty-four years of age and when twenty-one took a homestead where he now lives and began to improve it. He has added since by purchase until he has one section of fine wheat land, all improved, fenced and provided with good buildings, water and so forth.

In February, 1903, Mr. Watson married Miss Alice Harris. Her parents, John and Emma (George) Harris, were natives of Indiana and among the early pioneers to the Walla Walla country, being but children when they came there. The father did freighting all through this country in early days. They were in Walla Walla before the town was started. Eight children were born to this worthy couple, Mary, deceased; William, George, Eva, John, Alice, Edgar, deceased; Rosie.

Politically, Mr. Watson is an active Republican. He takes pains to keep himself well informed on the issues of the day and is a man up-to-date and progressive. Fraternally, he is a member of the M. W. A. and the I. O. O. F.

JOHN N. WATSON is register of the United States land office and a prominent wool grower residing in Lakeview, Oregon. He was reared on a farm in Montgomery county, Illinois, and upon the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in Company F, One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Illinois Infantry, being a member of the first regiment which was a part of Kimball's provisional division attached to the Sixteenth corps. He joined the army in August, 1862, and was given an honorable discharge in August, 1865. During his term of enlistment he was in many of the prominent battles and in numerous minor fights and skirmishes, prominent among which we may mention the siege of Vicksburg and the battle of Little Rock. He is now a member of the Gen. O. M. Mitchell post, G. A. R., of Reno, Nevada.

After the war Mr. Watson returned to Illinois and in 1866 he went to Labette county, Kansas, in fact, prior to the organization of that county, as he was one of its organizers and was elected its first sheriff. In 1875 he came to Portland, Oregon, and the year following to Chico, California, where he engaged in the stock business and freighting. He went to San Francisco in 1884 and there engaged in the business of buying stock for a number of the prominent wholesale meat markets of that city. In 1891 he came to Lake county in the interest of his firms and seven years later he came to locate here, though he still continues to buy stock for the San Francisco markets. He engaged in the sheep business upon coming to this county and rapidly increased his holdings in sheep and land until he now has a large flock of sheep and four hundred acres of choice land in Lake county. He was appointed register of the United States land office during October, 1903. He always has been an uncompromising Republican in politics. He was made a Mason in November, 1868, and is now a member of the Paisley lodge of that order.

Mr. Watson is classed as one of the well-to-do citizens of Lake county, although he started in business here with very small means. He is a man of great energy and perseverance and of strict honor, traits to which is wholly due the success he has made of his life.

John N. Watson was born in Scott county, Illinois, January 3, 1843, the son of James C. Watson, a native of Ohio, and Serena (Thomas) Watson, whose native state is New York. He was married in May, 1868, to Malissa Craft, in Chetopa, Kansas. Mrs. Watson died in April, 1882, at Chico, California, leaving three children, whose names follow: Bertha, wife of Robert S. Boyd; Maud, wife of Robert W. Gray; and Benjamin C. Watson, married to Irene Lutgen. All of the children are residents of San Francisco.

In December, 1904, Mr. Watson married Mrs. Cornelia (Barnard) Knox, the daughter of James E. and Luemma Barnard, at Lakeview, Oregon.

As rises on night's jewelled brow
Some orb supremely bright,
So Washington, from dawn to day,
Emerges on our sight,
From gloomy depths of endless pines,
From privacy of snow:
Where ice-clad peaks o'erlook the vales,
Where milder breezes blow:
From doubtful dawn to daylight,
From savagery to state,
She comes to prove the triumph

THE MCKAY TRESTLE

On August 20, 1881, the new line of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company had reached McKay, where a wide trestle was being built. It took a crew of 50 men to frame the timbers used in the trestle crossing. The bridge was 1000 feet long and 96 feet high. It was completed by the middle of September of that year.

The high trestle was rebuilt in 1892, as it was on the main line from Starbuck to Walla Walla, and many loaded boxcars passed over the trestle every day.

On August 5, 1894, the bridge, with a west bound freight train crossing, collapsed, taking the caboose and 16 carloads of ore, wheat, and flour to the bottom of the 96 foot abyss. The engine, No. 1478 crossed safely before the collapse. The tender turned over, injuring the conductor, Watson, the brakeman, David Wright and Fred Harrison.

The men were taken to the nearest farm house and a call was made to notify trains and get help for the men. Help came from Walla Walla and Dr. Baker came from Starbuck, with Dr. E.H. Van Patton from Dayton. The injured men were taken to Walla Walla.

Not a timber was left standing at the trestle. It made one long windrow of splintered timbers, as the trestle gave way. The three men recovered from the accident. The caboose lay at the bottom of the canyon for years, after the mishap. The McKay trestle was replaced with a dirt fill, which is still there today, though nearly a hundred years have passed. Pg 91

Death of Robert Watson.

STARBUCK, Wash., Feb. 20.—Died suddenly at his home in Rio Vista, California, Feb. 15, 1893, Robert Watson, in his sixty-seventh year. He was the father of Mrs. A. Pearson of this place, who was the oldest of his family; also of Robert W. Watson, of Farmington, James Watson, of La Grande, William Watson, of Coeur d'Alene, Mrs. Lee Smith, of Seattle, Mrs. Mary Thompson, of La Grande, Alexander Watson, of Pocatello and John R. Watson, who is the youngest and resided with his father. As will be seen, nearly all his children reside in this state, and owing to condition of the railroads, only a few of them made the attempt to attend the funeral. He was born in Scotland, came to California and to Rio Vista in July 1867, where he has since lived. He was a man who was universally loved and respected and his children deeply feel the loss of a dear father and the community in which he lived a kind and loving friend.

Fair winds may fan the chaste sails of natures bark, clouds may pass mingling with sunshine, on this great path of unresistance, forms may change, all things being transient and evanescent. But like the water of a placid stream they never return, rushing ever onward, and at last life's passions and ambitions grow dim as the murmuring of the waves die out. But our consolation abides upon our threshold. In the far distance we can see a bright and shining star hope. So knowing as we do that all things defy evolution, knowing that nature so designed all things that happiness is a watchword throughout the universe. The death of a beloved one causes intense sorrow to a circle of friends. A FRIEND.

ENGINEER WATSON DEAD.

Another Trusted Employe is a Victim of Death on the Rail.

While hoping against hope the many friends of Engineer James Watson were grieved to hear that his death occurred at two o'clock Sunday morning in the hospital at Walla Walla, from injuries received while at his post of duty on the west-bound passenger train near Gibbon on Tuesday evening of last week.

It was near that point that the engine run over four horses throwing the ponderous machine from the rail, and after having reversed the engine and applied the air brakes, and accomplishing all that was in his power to save the lives of the passengers, and with but an instant in which to decide, he sought his own safety in jumping from the engine.

The fearful injuries which he sustained have already been related in these columns. The opinion of the physicians was that it was not possible for him to recover, although he regained consciousness and was able to recognize his family and friends. His condition improved sufficiently during the latter part of the week to leave hope that he would yet recover, but during Saturday night brain trouble set in, and after days of fearful suffering death came to his relief and claimed another victim from the ranks of the railway service.

James Watson has been in the employ of the railroad company, and has made his home in La Grande for upwards of ten years, the last six of which he was employed in the capacity of engineer. To those who became his friends and acquaintances it is not necessary to tell of his sterling integrity of character, nor attempt to depict the feeling of gloom which prevades the community by reason of his death. All that was honorable; all that was conscientious and manly was embodied in the daily life and character of James Watson.

In the year 1892 Mr. Watson was united in marriage with Miss Emma Williamson, of Farmington, Washington. He built a handsome residence in this city, and his domestic life was one of happiness. The union was blessed with a son, now two years of age. Words would fail to express the depth of sympathy which goes out to the bereaved wife in the affliction which the hand of death has thrust upon her.

The funeral took place at Walla Walla to day. A special train left La Grande this morning bearing members of the Masonic and Workmen lodges, under whose rituals the funeral services will be conducted.

In addition to the one hundred members of the Masonic and Workmen lodges about twenty-five others, principally railroad employes, accompanied the train. As an evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held by the company this special train was placed at the disposal of his friends by the railroad officials, and the machine shops are closed today out of respect to his memory.—La Grande Chronicle, Oct. 1.

After the funeral Wm. Watson and wife of Farmington, Robt. Watson and Alex Watson, of Pocatello, Idaho, visited their sister, Mrs. Annie Pearson, of Starbuck, for a few days.

8 Feb 1902

Mrs. Anna Pearson, proprietor of the hotel at Starbuck, received a dispatch last Monday from San Francisco to the effect that the body of her brother, J. E. Watson had been found in Golden Gate Park. A reply dispatch was sent to properly care for the body until her son Charles should arrive there.

*History Of the State Of Washington
1894*

H. K. Thelen

ALFRED H. WEATHERFORD, Sheriff of Columbia county, was born in Unionville, the county seat of Putnam county, Missouri, October 10, 1853, a son of Alfred H. and Sophia (Smith) Weatherford, natives of Virginia. The father, a lawyer by profession, died when our subject was but two years of age, and the mother's death followed four years later.

Alfred H., Jr., the fifth in a family of six children, lived with neighbors after his parents' death until 1864, when his brother, John A., was married, and he removed with him to the Willamette valley, Oregon. The latter, who located near Brownsville, died in 1866. Mr. Weatherford remained there until the spring of 1868, after which he followed farming one year in Contra Costa county, California, and then located about six miles south of the present site of Dayton, in Columbia county, Washington.

After renting land one season he purchased 100 acres, to which he afterward added until he owned 1,000 acres, and became one of the extensive farmers of the district. He sold his land in 1891, and came to Dayton, where he has since conducted the leading livery stable in Columbia county, having purchased the property and business a short time before locating here. In 1889-'90 he served with much credit as Representative of Columbia county. In September, 1892, Mr. Weatherford was nominated on the Democratic ticket for Sheriff, was elected in the following November, and took charge of the office in January, 1893.

He was married in this county, December 17, 1872, to Miss Eleanor Baldwin, a native of Indiana, and a daughter of Alexander and Martha Baldwin, who came to Columbia county, Washington, in 1865. Our subject and wife have six children: Frances M., John A., Susan O., Charles A., Alice, and Alfred H. Socially, Mr. Weatherford is a member of Dayton Lodge, No. 3, Knights of Pythias, and of the Uniformed Rank, and is also a member of the Democratic Central Committee. He attended as a delegate the Territorial convention at Spokane, which nominated Charles Voorhees for Congressional Delegate, was a delegate to the convention of 1892, at Vancouver, that elected delegates to the national convention at Chicago, and finally was a delegate to the last State convention at Olympia. Mr. Weatherford is a man of the highest standing in the entire community, and is an able officer.

FRANCIS MARION WEATHERFORD, a leading citizen and prominent farmer of Columbia county, Washington, was born in Putman county, Missouri, November 12, 1855, and is a son of Alfred H. Sr., and Sophia (Smith) Weatherford, both of whom were natives of Virginia. The father, a lawyer by profession, died when our subject was an infant, and as the mother's death occurred four years later, Francis was reared by relatives.

In 1864 the subject of our sketch accompanied other members of the family on their trip across the plains to Oregon, and for four years resided near Brownsville, Linn county. Then he went to California, and for two years lived in Contra Costa county, near Pacheco and Clayton. After this he was for one year in southern Oregon, near Jacksonville, from there removing to Umatilla county, same State. During these changes he had accompanied his brother William (now of Gillam county, Oregon), in whose family he was reared. After four years in eastern Oregon, he came to Columbia county, Washington, and went to school here in 1872. He then went back to Oregon, but in 1874 returned to Columbia county, and bought land in Bundy hollow, where he resided six years. Then he sold his farm and bought another in the same vicinity. In March, 1887, he bought 610 acres of land in Wilson hollow, and about three years later sold his 520-acre ranch in Bundy hollow. In January, 1892, he purchased 520 acres where he now resides, nine miles from Dayton, on the old Lewiston road, and in March following removed to it. He has since resided here, although he still retains his ranch in Wilson hollow. He gives his personal attention to the farming of his home place, and cultivates about 500 acres of it, usually summer-fallowing about one half each year, his principal crop being wheat, though he raises some barley and corn. His farm is well equipped with all necessary machinery, and everything about the premises indicates the fact that the owner is a prudent and able business man.

Mr. Weatherford was married in this State, November 10, 1878, to Miss Harriett A. Turner, a native of Missouri, and daughter of John and Mary A. (Powers) Turner, the father a native of Virginia, and the mother of Indiana. Her parents were married in Missouri, and in 1865 came out across the plains to Oregon, locating near Dayton, Yam Hill county. In 1871 they came to Washington and settled in the forks near Whiskey creek, in Columbia county, where the father bought a settler's claim to land which subsequently proved to be subject to railroad claim. They then moved over into Dustin hollow, bought a claim and filed on the land. At this writing they live near Dayton. Mr. and Mrs. Weatherford have five children:

HON. F. M. WEATHERFORD

William M., James Clyde, Susie, Clara and Arthur.

Politically, Mr Weatherford is a Democrat. He is a Director of school district No. 10. Since locating in this county his progress has certainly been commendable. When he arrived here in 1874 his entire capital consisted of a horse and saddle and $100. Now he justly ranks with the substantial men of Columbia county.

HON. F. M. WEATHERFORD.

Hon. F. M. Weatherford is now living practically retired in Dayton but for many years was actively and extensively connected with farming interests and is still the owner of much valuable wheat land in this section of the state. Moreover, he has been prominently connected with public affairs and has been called upon to represent his district in the general assembly. He was born in Missouri, November 12, 1855, and is a son of Alfred H. and Sophia (Smith) Weatherford, both of whom were natives of Virginia and at an early day removed westward to Missouri, where their remaining days were passed. They had a family of nine children but only three are now living.

While born in the middle west, Hon. F. M. Weatherford has spent the greater part of his life in the Pacific coast country. He crossed the plains in 1864, when a lad of but nine years, and became a resident of Linn county, Oregon. The trip was made with ox teams and wagon and he was six months en route, experiencing many hardships and privations as the party traveled over the barren plains, the hot sandy desert and across the mountain ranges. He took up his abode with a brother in Oregon and there remained until 1872, when he made his way northward to Walla Walla county, Washington. The following year, when a youth of eighteen, he rented a farm nine miles southwest of Dayton in the section known as Bundy Hollow. Later he bought land east of Dayton and occupied that farm for twenty years, his labors bringing about a marked transformation in the appearance of the place, for when the land came into his possession it was wild and undeveloped. With characteristic energy he began to cultivate it, breaking the furrows, planting the seed and in due time gathering rich harvests. Year by year the work of operating the farm was carried on and as his financial resources increased he made other investments in property, adding to his holdings from time to time until he is now the owner of sixteen hundred acres of fine wheat land in Columbia county. He was also at one time vice president of the Farmers Exchange at Waitsburg, which he aided in organizing.

He has now put aside the more active work of the fields, leaving that to others, while he is enjoying a well earned rest, having taken up his abode in Dayton. His farm property yields to him a most gratifying annual income and his energy and sound business judgment have brought him success.

In 1878 Mr. Weatherford was united in marriage to Miss Harriet A. Turner and they have become parents of five children: William M.; J. C., who is living upon the home farm; Mary S., who is the wife of Elmer Dunlap; Clara L., the wife of W. E. Bruce; and Arthur M., who is also upon the home farm.

In his political affiliation Mr. Weatherford is a democrat and has taken an active part in advancing the interests of the organization. His fellow townsmen, appreciative of his worth and his devotion to the party, elected him to represent them for one term in the state legislature. The cause of education finds in him a stalwart champion and he has done effective work in behalf of the schools as a member of the school board. Fraternally he is connected with Dayton Lodge, No. 136, I. O. O. F., and both he and his wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and in its work take an active and helpful interest, doing all in their power to extend its growth and promote its purpose. Mr. Weatherford deserves much credit for what he has accomplished. He started out in the business world empty-handed, yet he has passed many another traveler on life's journey whose start was perhaps more advantageous. His success is the direct result of indefatigable industry intelligently directed, and, advancing year by year, he has become one of the prominent and prosperous men of Columbia county.

WILLIAM M. WEATHERFORD.

William M. Weatherford, president of the Weatherford-Wallace Company, of Dayton, conducting a loan, real estate, insurance and abstract business, was born in Columbia county, the 4th of October, 1879, a son of Francis M. and Harriett A. Weatherford, who were pioneer residents of Oregon and Washington, having crossed the plains with ox teams at a period when that was practically the only method of travel between the east and the west. The father is now the owner of an extensive farm in Columbia county and is one of the leading citizens of the district. He has served as a representative of the county in the state legislature and has otherwise been prominently connected with public affairs.

In the public schools of his native county William M. Weatherford pursued his early education and afterward became a student in the Portland Business College of Portland, Oregon, from which in due course of time he was graduated. He was reared to the occupation of farming and after his textbooks were put aside devoted his attention for a time to general agricultural pursuits, but thinking to find other business activities more congenial and perhaps more profitable, he concentrated his efforts upon the banking business for a period. Later he became identified with the insurance, mortgage loan and real estate business and his efforts have since been directed along those lines. At the present time he is at the head of the Weatherford-Wallace Company, of Dayton, as its president and is thus conducting a profitable loan, real estate, insurance and abstract business.

On the 2d of June, 1906, Mr. Weatherford was united in marriage in Walla Walla, Washington, to Miss Roselle M. Carpenter, a daughter of G. W. and Mary A. Carpenter, the former a druggist of Waitsburg, Washington. Mrs. Weatherford was born in Olympia, Washington, and acquired her education in the public schools of this state and in the Washington State College at Pullman. Her mother is one of the descendants of John Quincy Adams. To Mr. and Mrs. Weatherford has been born a daughter, Marybelle. Mr. Weatherford supports the Congregational church and he gives his political allegiance to the democratic party. He has membership with the Knights of Pythias and with the Masons and in his life exemplifies the beneficent spirit upon which these organizations are founded. He is likewise connected with the Dayton Commercial Club and he stands for progress and improvement, advocating all those interests which have to do with the welfare and upbuilding of the city in which he makes his home. He has always lived in Washington and the spirit of western enterprise has found expression in his life. There has been nothing spectacular in his career but his course has been marked by that steady advancement which follows persistent and earnest effort, and his substantial traits of character have won for him the kindly regard and goodwill of his associates in both business and social life.

*Illustrated History Of Southeastern Washington
1906*

HON. FRANCIS M. WEATHERFORD is one of the early settlers of the territory now embraced in Columbia county. The splendid success he has made in life is due to the wisdom, to the industry and to the aggressiveness which have been manifested during his career. He stand to-day one of the leading men of this part of the state whose wealth and position have been justly earned.

Francis M. Weatherford was born in Putnam county, Missouri, on November, 12, 1855. Alfred Weatherford, his father, was born in Virginia, where also our subject's paternal grandparents were born. They came from English ancestry. In 1855, the same year in which our subject was born, his father died in Putnam county, Missouri. He had owned there a very large farm and raised stock and did general farming. For two terms he had been sheriff of his county and was a man of influence and excellent standing. He married Sophia Smith, a native of Virginia, where also her parents were born, descendants from an old colonial family. She died at the old home place in Putnam county in 1861. She and her husband were both devout members of the Methodist church, South. Our subject being thus left an orphan at an early age, remained with his brother, William, with whom he lived until grown up. It is of interest to note that on the old home place in Missouri, now stands Unionville, the county seat of Putnam county. In 1864, our subject came with his brother to Linn county, Oregon, where he later bought land. Four years afterward they moved to Contra Costa county, California, and two years later, came back to Jackson county, Oregon. After a year in that locality, they came to Umatilla county, it being then the fall of 1872. Our subject was sent by his brother to the old Bundy school in Walla Walla county, where he finished his education. As early as 1873, Mr. Weatherford came to settle in Walla Walla county, that portion which is now embraced in Columbia county. He rented land for a year, then bought it, the same being a quarter of a section. He was then but eighteen years of age and this start in life gives one a key to the man. His carefulness, his aggressiveness and his unerring judgment are what have won for him his success. This land was in the Bundy neighborhood and Mr. Weatherford gradually added to the original quarter section until at one time he owned in that locality eleven hundred and forty acres. In 1892, he sold most of this land, rented the balance and removed to the Covello neighborhood, where he owned eleven hundred and sixty acres of fine wheat soil. In 1904, Mr. Weatherford sold out the last of his Wilson Hollow land, receiving fifty dollars per acre for it, and his last deed conveyed over five hundred and thirty acres. It was considered one of the best places in Walla Walla county.

On October 10, 1878, at the residence of the bride's parents in Wilson Hollow, Mr. Weatherford married Harriett A. Turner, the daughter of John and Mary A. (Power) Turner. The father was born in Virginia of an old colonial family and died April 20, 1899, at Covello. The mother was born in Indiana. Her marriage occurred in Missouri and she came with her husband to the coast in 1865. Mrs. Weatherford has five brothers, Benjamin, John, Joseph, James, and Charles, and one half-brother, William Anderson, and two sisters, Mrs. Samantha Price and Mrs. Irene Freeman, and one half-sister, Mrs. Clara Price. Mr. Weatherford has three brothers living, William W., James K., and Alfred H., and Thomas, Aaron and John deceased. The children born to Mr. and Mrs. Weatherford are, William and James C., both graduates of the business college in Portland; Arthur M., Mary S., and Clara B., at home.

Mr. Weatherford is a member of the I. O. O. F. and he and his wife belong to the Methodist church, South. Politically, our subject is a strong Democrat and at the last election was chosen representative to the state legislature for Columbia county. He takes an active interest in everything for the building up of the country and in his present capacity as representative in the legislature, he has shown that same wisdom and care that have characterized him during his successful career. He is a popular man and has won the position by display of fairness, genialty and good judgment and stands to-day one of the leading men of this part of the state.

J. C. WEATHERFORD.

One of the distinguished and honored citizens of Columbia county is J. C. Weatherford, a successful agriculturist, making a specialty of stock and wheat raising. He was born in this county on the 21st of May, 1882, and is a son of F. M. Weatherford, whose sketch appears on another page of this volume.

During his boyhood and youth J. C. Weatherford attended the common schools and completed his education by a course at Armstrong Commercial College, from which he was graduated. On putting aside his textbooks, he turned his attention to farming and purchased a tract of land which he has since operated with marked success. He is now the owner of five hundred acres of very valuable and productive land, most of which is devoted to wheat, and he gives considerable attention to the raising of stock.

In 1910 Mr. Weatherford married Miss Fleta Ward, also a native of Walla Walla county, and they have a little daughter, Antoinette, who was born November 19, 1916. Mrs. Weatherford is a member of the Episcopal church, and Mr. Weatherford's fraternal relations are with the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks and the Knights of Pythias. The democratic party has found in him a staunch supporter of its principles and his fellow citizens recognizing his worth and ability elected him state senator in 1912. For four years he filled that responsible position with credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of his constituents. He has also served as school director and has done much to promote the interests of his community along various lines. Pg 79 f

The Weatherford family came from Missouri in 1864 but most of them settled around Condon, Oregon. F.M. homesteaded just above Covello and his brother Alfred in the Bundy Hollow area. Alfred sold his farm and bought a livery stable in Dayton which he operated until elected county sheriff. F.M. (Marion) got his patent in 1889 and by 1900 he had added the John Wilson, Narling and Carter homesteads to his holdings. He was a good farmer and a topnotch citizen.

There were five Weatherford children. Will became a Dayton businessman; Clyde ran the farm and served in the State Legislature several years; Art farmed at Condon until he moved to the Yakima valley. Sue married Elmer Dunlap another Dayton businessman and Clarabelle became Mrs. Emory Bruce. Mrs. Antonette (Harvey) Frye, daughter of Clyde and Fleta (Ward) lives in Dayton where her husband has been with the post office a long period.

120. Harriet Antoinette<sup>4</sup> TURNER (John D., 38). Born, 27 Mar 1858, in Scotland, MO. Died, 25 Mar 1926, in Columbia, WA, age 67.<sup>57</sup>

She married Francis Marion WEATHERFORD, son of Alfred H. WEATHERFORD and Sophia SMITH, 5 Nov 1878, in Columbia, WA. Born, 12 Nov 1855, in Putnam, MO. Died, 4 May 1925, in Columbia, WA, age 69.<sup>58</sup> Both were buried in the Dayton Cemetery. They are on the 1887 Walla Walla, WA census; 1900 Covello, Columbia, WA census; 1910 Touchet, Columbia, WA census and the 1920 Dayton, Columbia, WA census. In 1920 a daughter-in-law Rose, a granddaughter Mary Belle, and a sister-in-law, Katherine TURNER, widow of Joseph TURNER(125), are living with them.

"Hon. F. M. WEATHERFORD is now living practically retired in Dayton but for many years was actively and extensively connected with farming interests and is still the owner of much valuable wheat land in this section of the state. Moreover, he has been prominently connected with public affairs and has been called upon to represent his district in the general assembly...

He crossed the plains in 1864, when a lad of but nine years, and became a resident of Linn county, Oregon. The trip was made with ox teams and wagon and he was six months en route... He took up his abode with a brother in Oregon and there remained until 1872, when he made his way northward to Walla Walla County, Washington. The following year, when a youth of eighteen, he rented a farm nine miles southwest of Dayton in the section known as Bundy Hollow. Later he bought land east of Dayton and occupied that farm for twenty years... He is now owner of sixteen hundred acres of fine wheat land in Columbia county.

He was also at one time vice president of the Farmers Exchange at Waitsburg, which he aided in organizing. He has now put aside the more active work of the fields, leaving that to others, while he is enjoying a well earned rest, having taken up his abode in Dayton. His farm property yields to him a most gratifying annual income and his energy and sound business judgment have brought him success. [His sons J. C. and Arthur M. were living on the home farm in 1918.]

In his political affiliation Mr. WEATHERFORD is a democrat and has taken an active part in advancing the interests of the organization. His fellow townsmen, appreciative of his worth and his devotion to the party, elected him to represent them for one term in the state legislature. The cause of education finds in him a stalwart champion and he has done effective work in behalf of the schools as a member of the school board. Fraternally he is connected with Dayton Lodge, No. 136, I. O. O. F., and both he and his wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and in its work take an active and helpful interest, doing all in their power to extend its growth and promote its purpose.<sup>59</sup> Children:

PASS RESOLUTION IN HONOR OF F. M. WEATHERFORD

In the untimely death of our neighbor and valued member, Mr. F. M. Weatherford, we feel keenly the loss of a good man. Mr. Weatherford has been for many years not only a very successful farmer, but a force and influence for good in Columbia county. His unselfish willingness to enter wholeheartedly into the civic enterprises of the community, and to put forth efforts both morally and financially that build and make the world just a little better should not be overlooked.

As a friend and man we had none better. We feel that his life has not been lived in vain, and that the community is better off for his having been a part.

The Columbia Count Farm Bureau takes this means of expressing its appreciation of the good work and example of a good man, and hereby join with the community in extending to the relatives of Mr. Weatherford its sincere sympathy in their great hour of sorrow.

2003 record of ownership: W W Day (1872-?), D C Guernsey 1903, Henry H Wolfe 1903-1904, C H Day ( W W Day's son) 1904, F M Weatherford 1904-1911, Clara Johnson 1911-1955, Edward & Wilma Hill 1955-1970, Michael & Linda Howell 1970-1971, Adolph J Pesicka 1971, Albert W Loveland & wife 4/13/1974, Tony Jonas 2/20/1976, Tony Jonas (divorce settlement) 7/27/1977, Tony Jonas estate to Tamara K Jonas 11/24/1993, Jonas to Michael J Haight & Cathy Lee-Haight 2/21/2001.

According to a Columbia Chronicle article of 1922, Dr. W.W. Day & his son C.H. Day, moved to Dayton in the spring of 1872 and built a large barn on the corner of First & Tremont streets. The barn was fitted up as a dwelling for the doctor's family, then in Wisconsin. They subsequently arrived in Dayton in the fall of 1872. The family included Dr. Day's wife Lucy, their daughter Harriet, and Lucy's father, Grandpa Pringle.

This building became quite noted from the fact that 5 leading pioneer couples were married in this historic old barn. The couples were C.J. Broughton & Ina McCleary (at the time of their wedding, Ina's mother was running the home as a boarding house), Henry Day (brother of Jesse Day) & Anna Alley, Dennis C. Guernsey & Hattie Day (daughter of Dr. W.W. Day), F.C. Miller & Lora Amanda Rees. It is referred to locally by some today as the "Wedding Barn" or the "Old Barn."

Additionally its owners from 1872 on include numerous well-known pioneer names, Dr. W.W. Day, Dennis C. Guernsey, Henry H. Wolfe, Charles H. Day, Francis M. Weatherford, and Andrew & Clara Johnson.

Description of Physical Appearance

1985 record: Double gable dormers on side of end gable roof house. Exposed rafters and brackets and shingles. Full front porch partially enclosed and has tapered porch posts and piers. House needs work. Property includes a one story, gable roof garage.

2003 record: The original barn is the front (west) half of the current house; the exterior barn wall has been exposed inside the house with window & door cutouts and square nails visible. On the 1884 City of Dayton map, a house is drawn at this address which shows the front half of the current house with the gable parallel to First St & a one-story extension on the east side. The 1916 Sanborn fire map shows a house with the current footprint. The current house has the gable running parallel to Tremont. The previous garage was removed sometime between 1985 & 1993. Carriage house (shop & garage) was built in 2001. Front porch was reopened to full width & the side (NE) porch was enclosed to make a sunroom in 2002.

MRS. ORA B. WEATHERFORD

Mrs. Ora B. Weatherford, 81, died at her home on Washington Avenue Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock. She had been in failing health three and a half years, but was confined to her bed during her last illness but little more than two weeks.

Funeral services were held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. Thomas McCamant of the Congregational church was the officiating clergyman, and Ernestine Peabody, a close friend of the family, read the Twenty-Third Psalm and a selection from Longfellow that Mrs. Weatherford had always loved.

Born in Lansing, Iowa, September 13, 1859, Mrs. Weatherford came west with her parents as a child of six. The journey was a long and arduous one, with the family first going to New York to embark on a voyage to the Isthmus of Panama where an overland trip was a brief interlude in the many days at sea necessary to reach the Pacific coast. They finally reached Salem, Oregon, which was their home for many years.

Mrs. Weatherford received her education at Willamette University where her mother, Mrs. Georgia Berry, taught music for many years. She came to Dayton in 1880 and this had been her home almost continuously since that time. She was a member of the Congregational church and had the distinction of being the eldest member of the Rainbow Chapter, No. 2, O. E. S., the second oldest chapter of the order in the state of Washington.

Surviving are two daughters; Margaret Gray McGucken, Dayton, and Helen Gray Sawyer, Martinez, California; one grandson, Granville McGucken, and two great-grandchildren, Molly and John McGucken, all of Rochester, New York.

Death of William Weatherford

After several days of anxiety, while physicians labored valiently to increase a slender chance of recovery, Dayton learned Tuesday morning, with infinite regret, of the death of William Weatherford, who passed away at about 8:30 o'clock. He was stricken with influenza about two weeks ago, which almost immediately developed into a most pernicious form of pneumonia. By the last of the week he seemed to be making a fair recovery, but experienced a severe relapse Friday night from which he could not rally. Friends have suffered with the stricken family for days, hoping against hope that their worst fears would not be realized.

The funeral will be held from the Hubbard & Rogg Chapel this afternoon at two o'clock with services at the cemetery.

William Weatherford was the eldest child of Hon. and Mrs. Marion Weatherford, pioneers of this county. He was born in Dayton October 4th, 1879, and always made this his home. After his schooling here, he attended the Portland Business College and entered the real estate and insurance business in 1906. J. L. Wallace went into partnership with him the first of January, 1910, and many large transactions have been handled by the firm. Wm. Weatherford embodied every high quality, and had an incomparably pleasant disposition and manner which made every one with whom he dealt, his friend. He was a member of the local K. of P. and the Masonic Orders, both the Chapter and the Blue Lodge. He will be greatly missed socially as well as in the business field of the community.

He is survived by his parents, Hon. and Mrs. Marion Weatherford, his wife, Rose M. Weatherford, a lovely little daughter of about eleven years, and two brothers and two sisters, who are Clyde and Arthur Weatherford of this county, Mrs. Elmer Dunlap of Dayton, and Mrs. C. E. Bruce of Coppel.

Alfred H. Weatherford.

Alfred H. Weatherford of Olex, Oregon, passed away at the home of his brother, Hon. F. W. Weatherford, of this city, at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning from stomach trouble. Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until the sons and daughters of the deceased are heard from.

The deceased was an early pioneer of this county, having crossed the plains with his brother F. M. Weatherford, and he resided in the county for many years, at one time owning the C. B. Bowman and the Joseph Culbertson farms on Hogeye. He was also in business in Dayton for a number of years. He served the county as sheriff for two terms and represented the county in the legislature of the state. For several years he has resided at Olex, Oregon, where he owns land and stock.

He is survived by three sons—John Weatherford of Montana, Charley and Alfred Weatherford of Gilham county, Oregon; three daughters—Mrs. Robert Barnett of Grangeville, Idaho; Mrs. Susan Sperry of Ione, Oregon, and a daughter in Denver; and three brothers, J. K. Weatherford of Albany, Oregon, W. W. Weatherford of Olex, Oregon, and Hon. F. M. Weatherford of Dayton.

Pioneer, Died

James Clyde Weatherford, Columbia county pioneer, died at his home on First street Tuesday after a prolonged period of failing health. Funeral services will be held from the Hubbard-Rogg chapel at 10:30 this morning, with the Rev. Bertram Warren officiating.

Clyde was born in Dayton May 21, 1888, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Marion Weatherford. He was married in Pendleton, Oregon, to Fleta Ward, member of another county pioneer family, and has lived also continuously in this community.

He served as a state senator in the sessions of 1913-15, and was the youngest member in either house at the time. He was a member of the Elks lodge and was one of the founders of what is known as the Columbia County Racing association and Dayton Days.

He was greatly interested in all kinds of sports and cattle. In his early farming and stock career he went in for purebred cattle, and took in many of the famous shows of the country. His sports interest was centered in horse racing, baseball and football and he had at the tip of his tongue a vast amount of knowledge on each of them.

Survivors include the wife at the family home, two children, Mrs. Harvey (Antonette) Frye, Dayton, and William Marion Weatherford of Parlier, California. There are three grandchildren; a brother, Arthur W. of Toppenish, and a sister, Mrs. Clara-bell Bruce of Dayton.

by the ball bug and has a memory for statistics and outstanding names in the game. J. L. Wallace, another Daytonite, was instructor at the Portland college when Clyde attended that school.

Graduating from the PBC in 1904, Clyde came back to his folks' place in Columbia county where he was born, seven miles east of Waitsburg, May 21, 1883. He went to farming with his dad and in 1920, about, went into the purebred Hereford cattle business. He showed the champion bull at the 1925 centennial at the Denver show. He also owned a sister to what was judged to be the greatest cow in the United States. When the grass went bad Clyde traded himself out of the cattle business.

This section of the state wanted very much to be on a primary state highway, and in 1912 the folks hereabouts elected Clyde state senator with the idea of getting a main road established through Dayton. Clyde says his statesmanship didn't get the road, but his connections did have something to do with it. His four-year term in the legislature is the only public office he ever held, unless," says he "you can count being a school director at Covello." That's what comes of being a Democrat in this county, thinks he. Clyde was also postmaster at Dayton for a time a few years ago.

Today his chief interests besides his memories are his three grandkids of whom he doesn't see enough. Two of them belong to his daughter, Mrs. H. G. (Antonette) Frye, Dayton, and one to Marion Weatherford of Parlier, California. Fleta Ward Watherford is the mother of Antonette and Marion, and she and Clyde were married February 12, 1931.

Death Claims
Mrs. Dunlap

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Susan (Sue) Dunlap of Dayton were held Tuesday morning at the Congregational church.

Mrs. Dunlap, a pioneer resident of Columbia county, died Friday at her home here. She was found as though asleep on the davenport, her book and glasses layed aside as though she had prepared to take a nap.

Born in Columbia county September 8, 1887, daughter of the late Francis M. Weatherford and Harriet Turner Weatherford, she spent her entire life in this area. She was civic minded and devoted to community work through numerous organizations, and still had time for full participation in the social life of the community.

Her husband, Elmer F. Dunlap, who preceded her in death a short time ago, was proprietor of Dayton Feed and Fuel, a pioneer establishment which was recently destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Dunlap is survived by a sister, Mrs. Clarabelle Bruce of Dayton, and two brothers, Clyde Weatherford of Dayton and Art Weatherford of Toppenish.

She was a pioneer member of the Congregational church of Dayton and also a member of the Halpine Society, Eastern Star and P.E.O. Sisterhood.
